This year wasn't so good for us because we really didn't have the chance to get things going for our because we were in love from the beginning. We just couldn't find the time to talk things over between one another. We ran into some bad times, and it really hurt our relationship.
 So in the summer we should have lots of time for the things we like to do.

Emotion is the driving force in athletics. Even the best teams lose if their heart is not in it. You can see it in the faces of the athletes. You can see it in the faces of the spectators.
 Without emotion, athletics

Administrative Leaders And Staff Enjoy Their Work Because

Barbara Arnold: Everyday is different.

Joseph Smith: Being around students, and activities.

Robert Bell: Being around students.

Linda Thompson: Contact with students, parents and staff.

Walter Bone: Working with kids.

Carol Cannon: Being around students, parents and teachers.

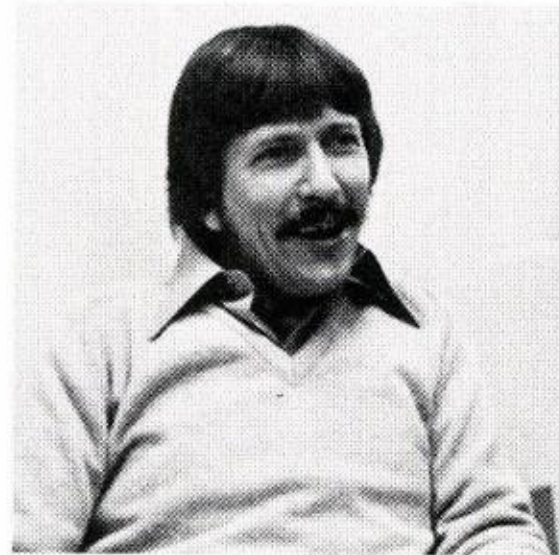

Donald Lundberg: Seeing kids change, for the better.

Going through a typical day in the administration office, you could see anything. From the bewilderment of the sophomore, to the disgust of the junior who has discovered L.A. 11A has been taken twice, to the despair of the senior who finds, one more credit is needed to graduate. Counselors help with the scheduling of classes, the rest help by listening about "that awful teacher" or the "schooltime blues". All are trying to make these three years the best possible.

Doris Kyle: Chewing out kids, to get educated.

Chuck Davis: Working with faculty and students, other than classroom.

Jackie Yellin: Students that enjoy learning.

Ada Brady: Seeing new material come in.

Geraldine Bebel: Enjoy everything about my work.

Joy Barker: Contact with people.

Mary Kobe: Seeing what's going on in the world.

Supportive Staff Feel Good About Their Work When

From sweeping up our messes and cooking our food, to filing our uncountable records; jobs of the behind the scene supporters of Nathan Hale. The secretaries try to keep our school together in some sort of order while the librarians help us the best they can by offering their assistance, in the "latest topics".

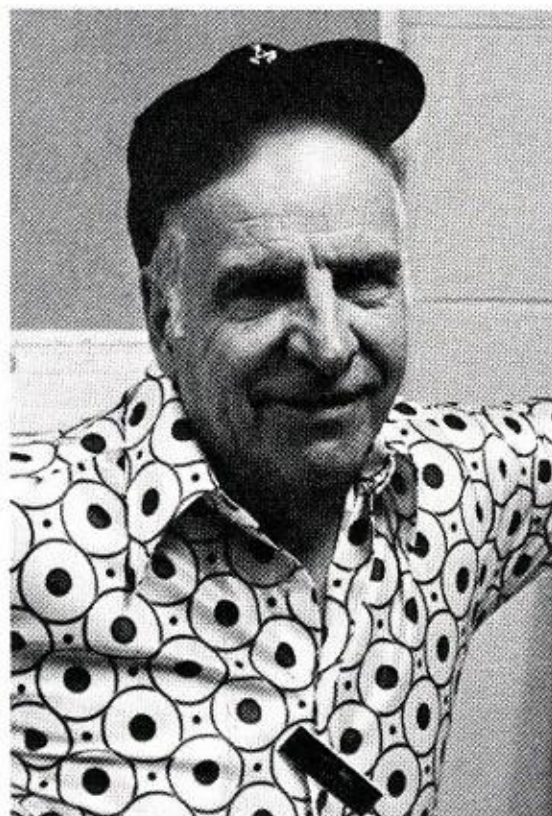

Betty Holland: Seeing students develop from sophomores to graduation.

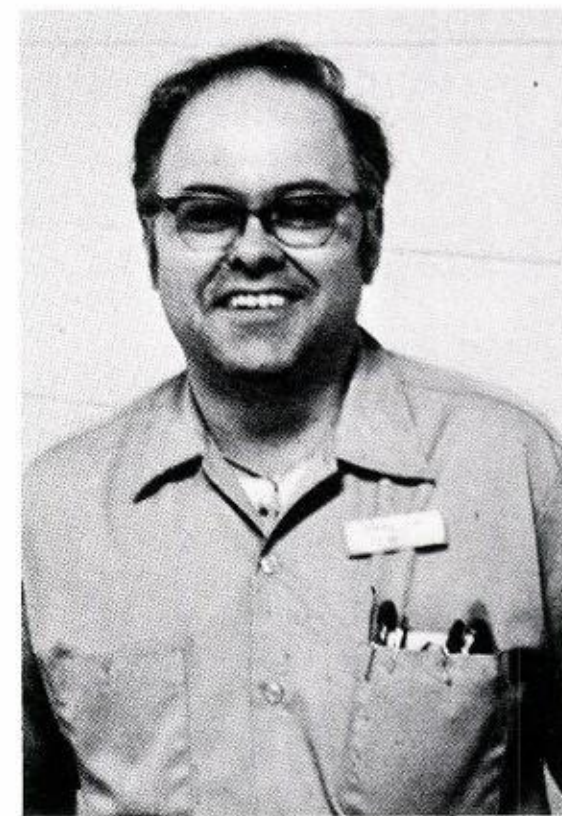

Judy Bomengen: My work is always interesting as industrial secretary.

Lunchroom Staff: Enjoy cooking. Left to right top row: Lucille Walton, Virginia Cowderoy, Madge Semenock, Gail Soder. bottom row: Betty Olsen, Jane Pingrey, Marylin Baker

Leroy Boll: Being around kids.

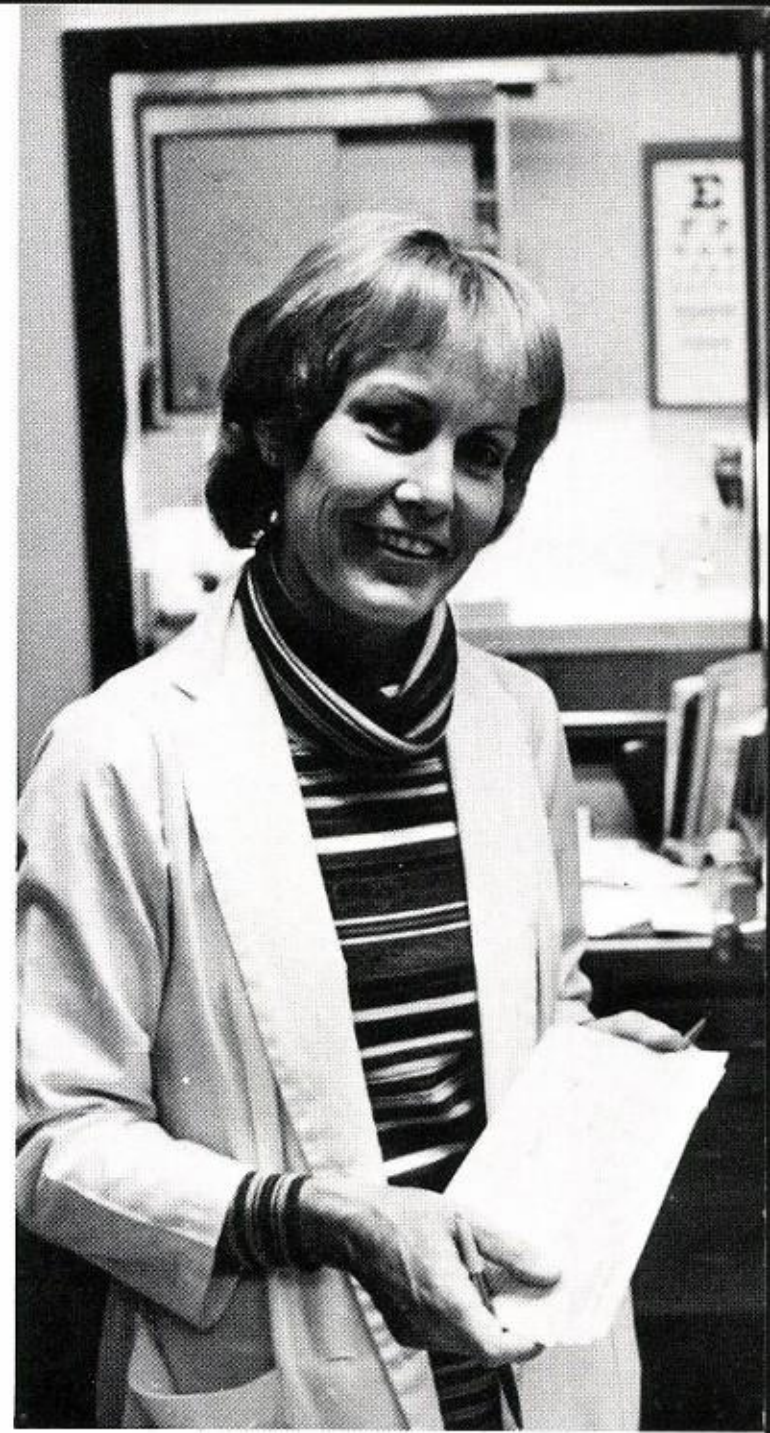

Fred Cooper: Being around kids.

Bette Phillips: The atmosphere of being around students and staff.

Rachel Williams: The people I work with.

Frances McEwen: It's stimulating work, fun, and never dull.

Dick Nyberg: The kids.

Carlene Bieber: Contact with students.

Jeanne Anderson: Being around students.

Sally Hottinger: Communicating with students.

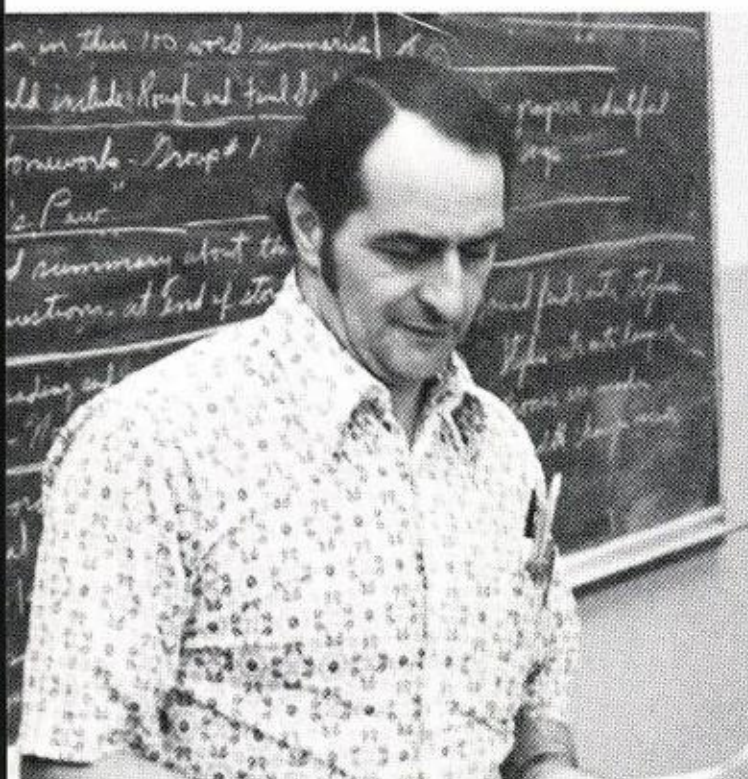

Brita Winder: All of my work.

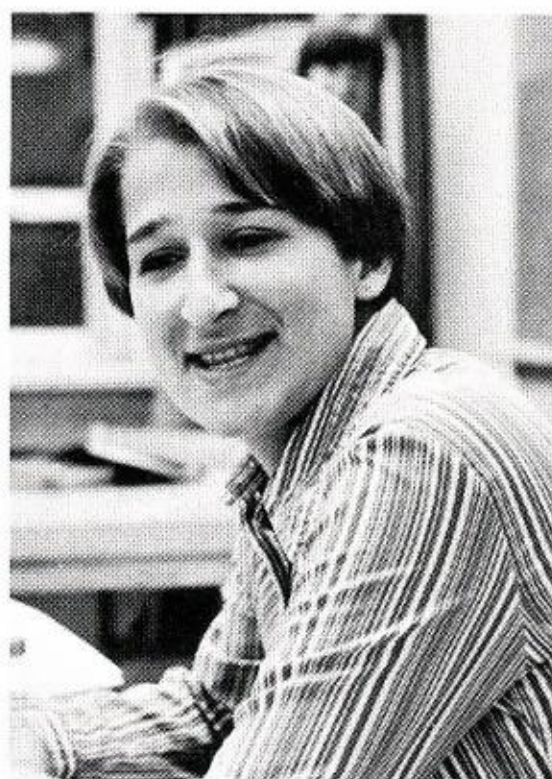

Frances Myers: Having classes that are too big.

Elaine Wetterauer: Talking to people with closed minds.

David Vangelisti: When students show disrespect to teachers.

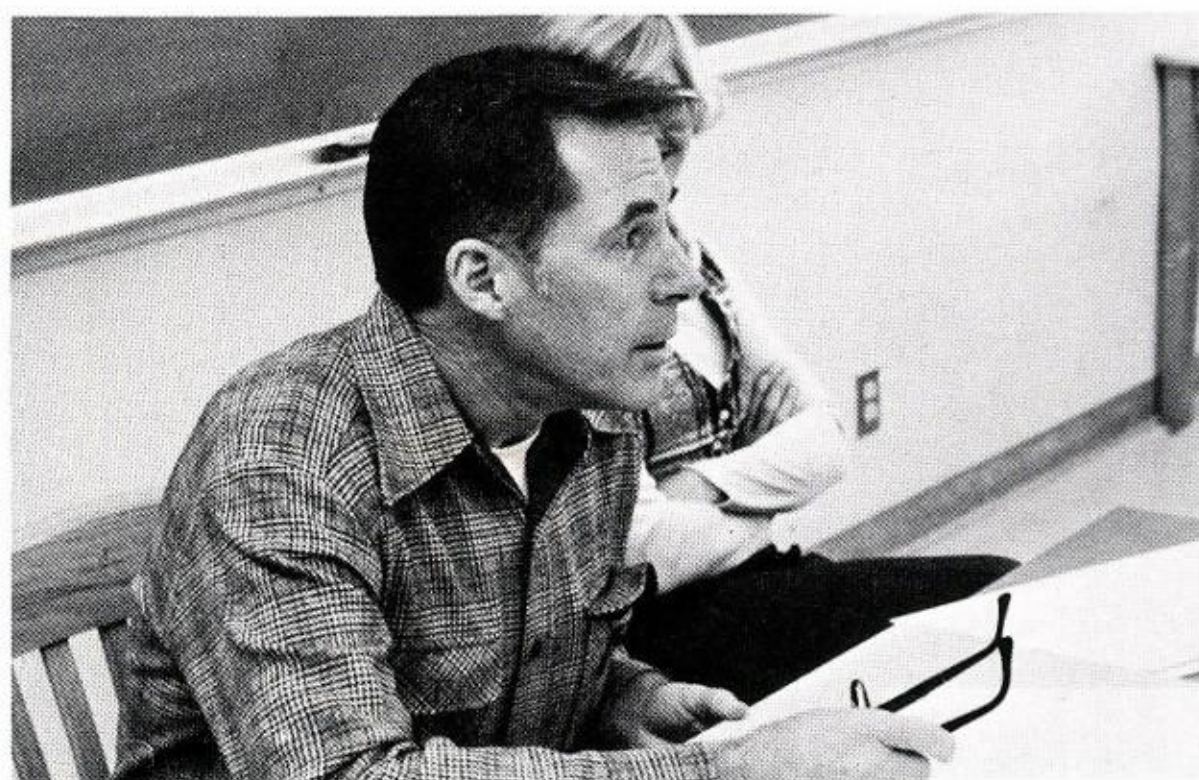

Migael Scherer: Not having enough time to get things done.

John Hinrichs: When everybody is not interested in what you're teaching.

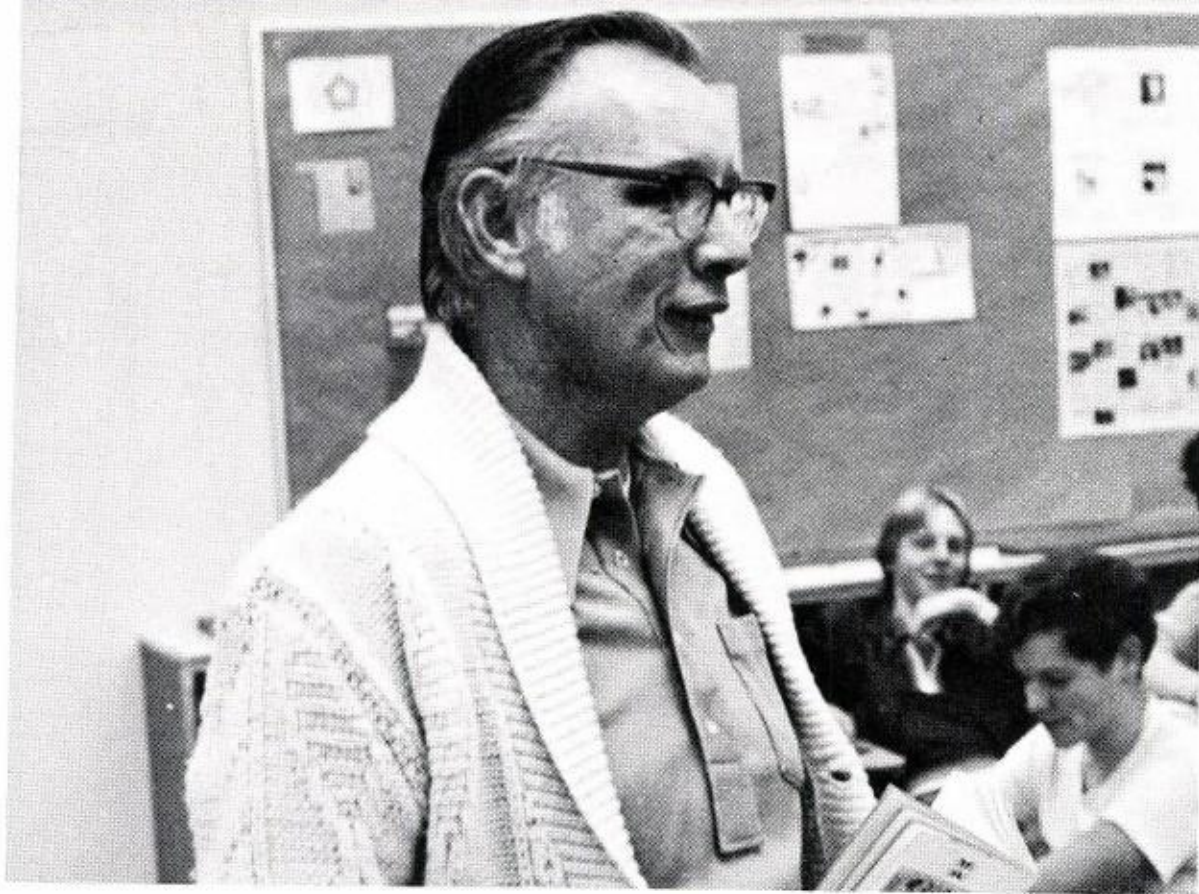

Robert Thomas: Challenge of teaching.

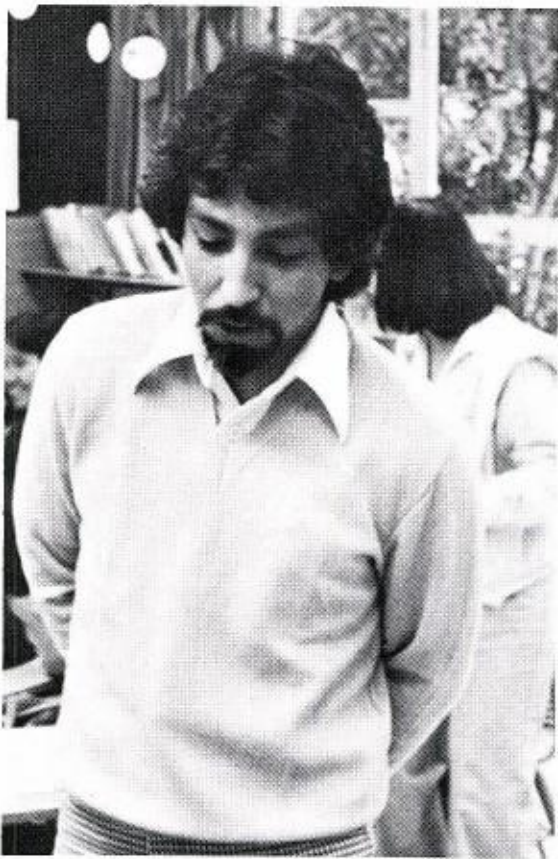

Norman Cromarty: A complacent person who has no frustrations.

*Tenna — you really made this an interesting class.
Good luck. T. Cromarty*

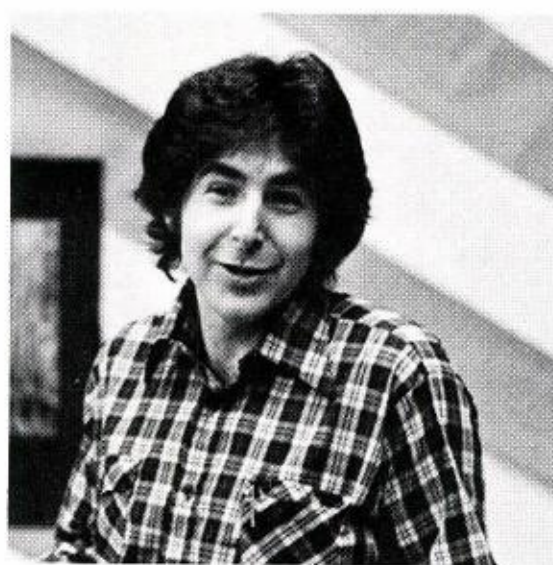

Thomas Tangney: Correcting papers.

Leonard Nicol: Not knowing the effect your teaching has had on student's lives.

Stephen Ross: Grading poor papers.

Roy Ketterer: Students that don't listen.

Lois Frank: Grading papers.

Language Arts Teachers Get Frustrated When

For two full years, every student takes Language Arts courses. Nothing pleases a Language Arts teacher more than a student that is truly interested. The teachers try to the best of their ability, to open students' minds to the important areas of Language Arts, such as, writing skills, famous literature, how to give speeches, and prepare for a debate.

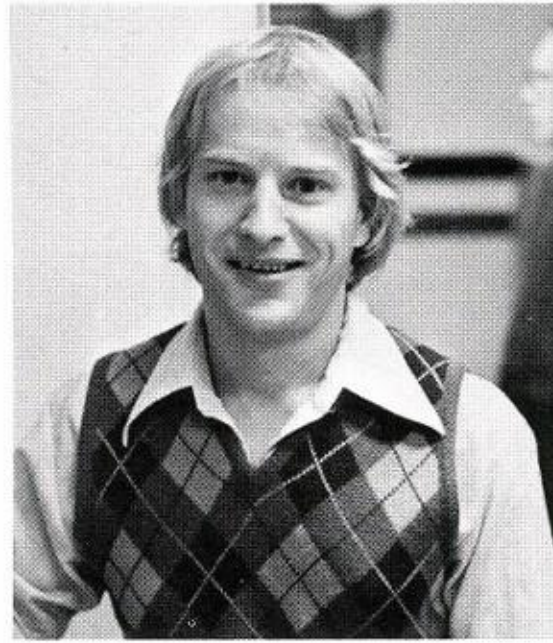

On A Day Off,
Math, Home Ec,
And Traffic Ed
Departments
Feel Like

Almost everything you need to know, about living on your own, is taught in the Home Economics department. Taking care of children, cooking, and even budgeting your money can be learned by taking one or more of these classes.

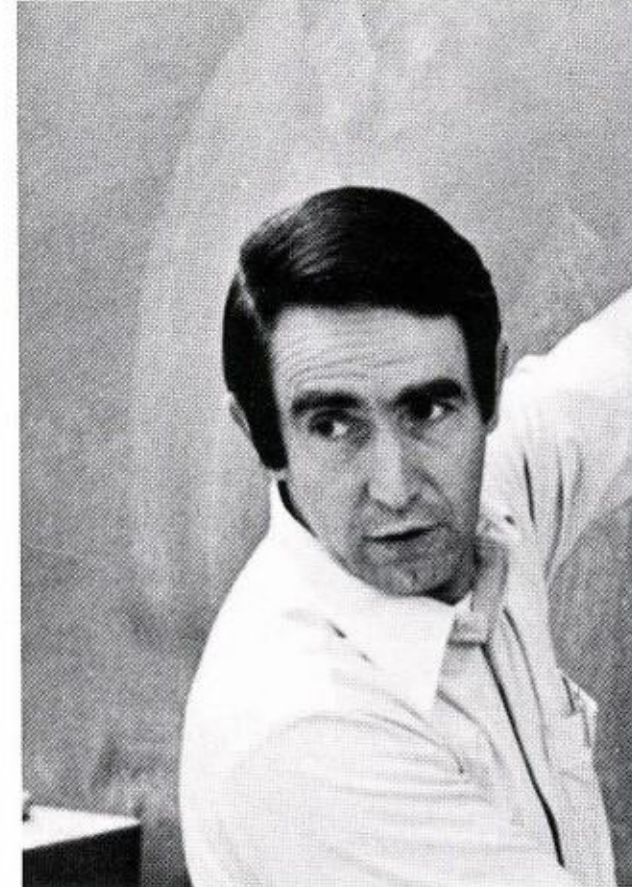

πr^2 ??? If you have taken any of the Math courses offered at Nathan Hale, you would probably know what this means. All the courses offered,

Joan Northfield: Outdoor activities like sailing and hiking.

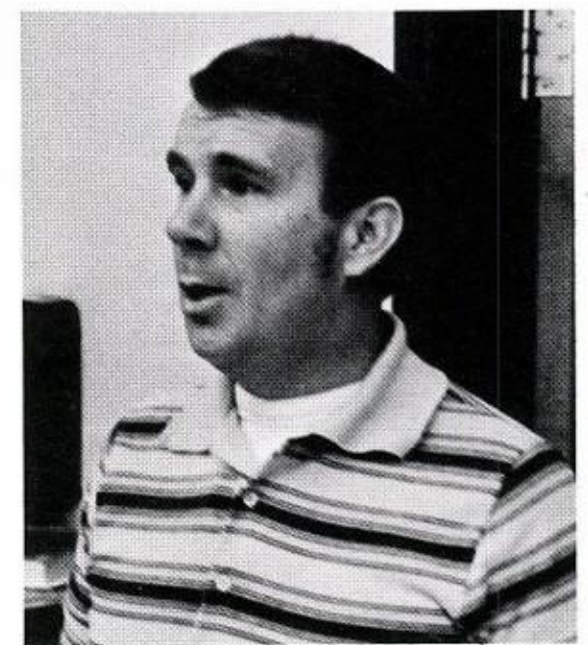

Michael Tracy: Ride bike, go running, be lazy.

Charles Vollbrecht: Finish addition of house, or sleep.

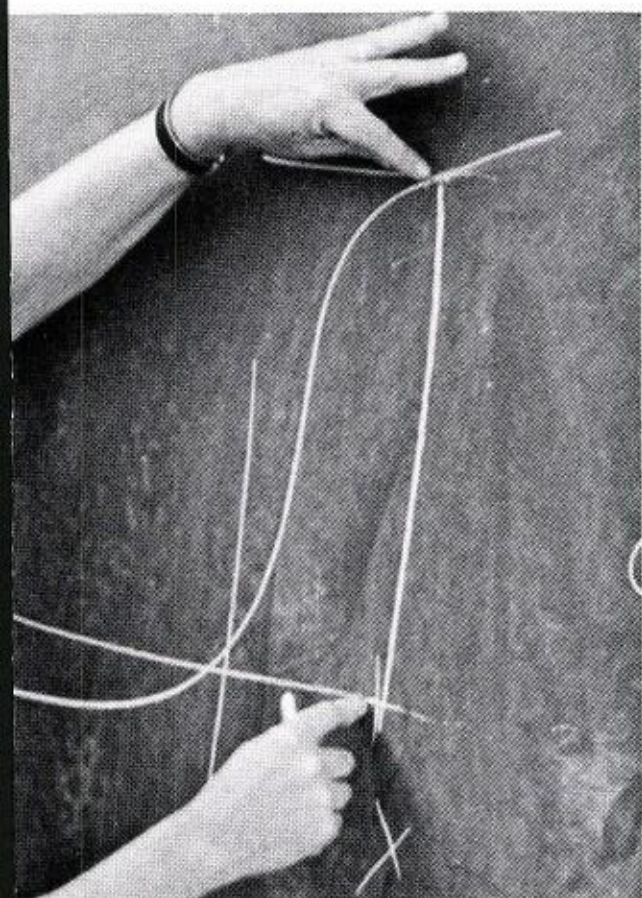

Mary Yanagimachi: Go to zoo, or park with son.

Fritz Mehlert: Going to Olympic Peninsula, hike to beach and camp out.

are to either help with college, or just with everyday life.

Driving is probably something, all of us will do. Traffic Education is the course offered at Nathan Hale, that allows us to get our license at 16, and takes us beyond that and teaches us driving skills that will be needed in the street driving we will do.

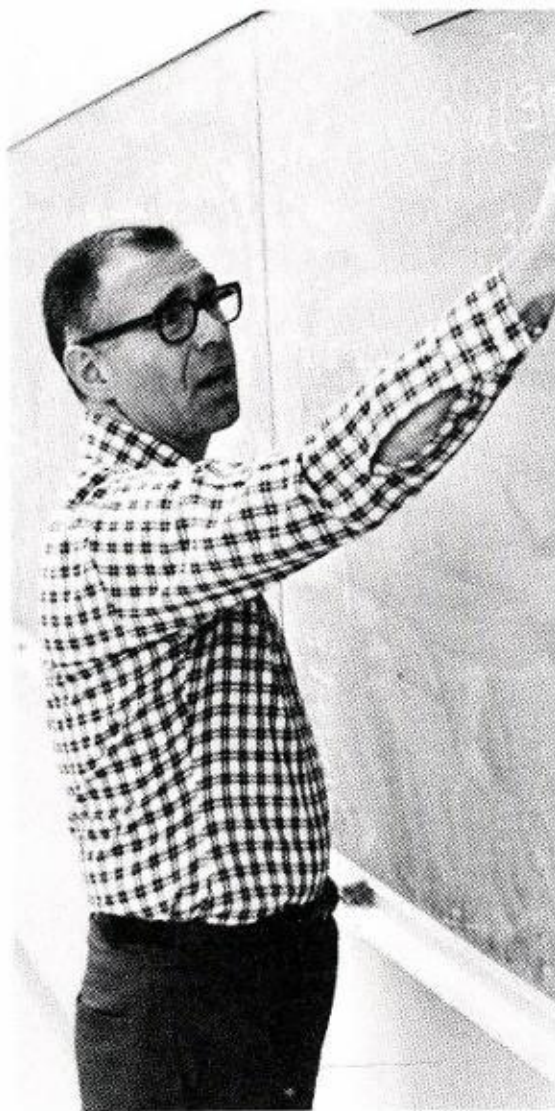

Harold Schold: Salt water fishing on the boat with my sons.

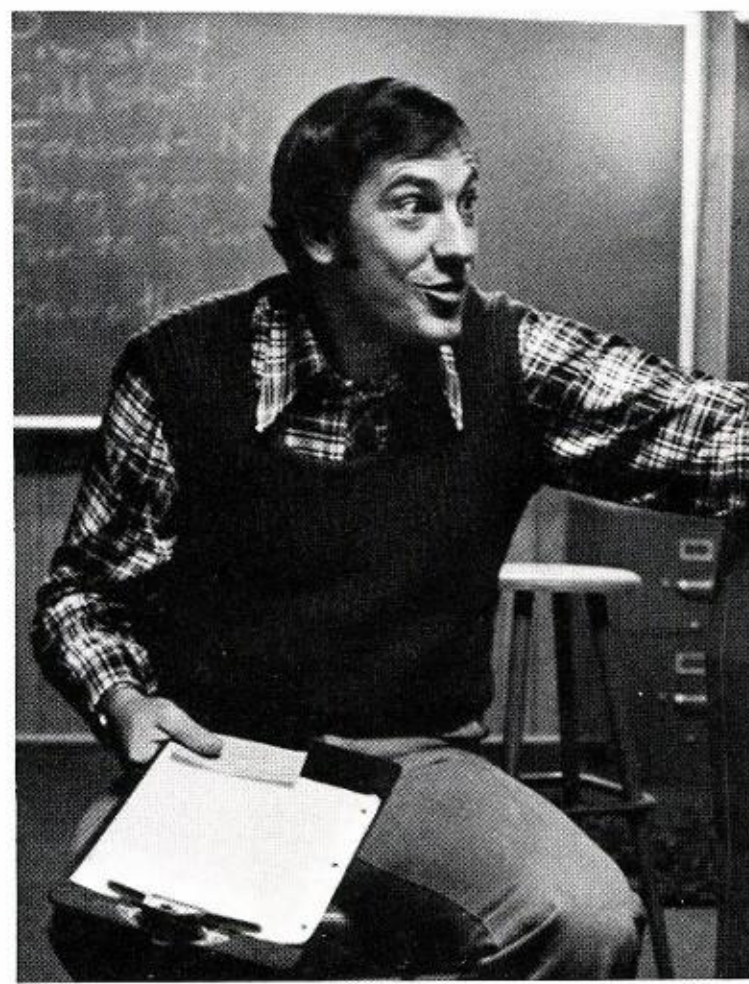

Peggy Snell: "Play". Doing whatever I want.

Charles Tarbox; Golfing.

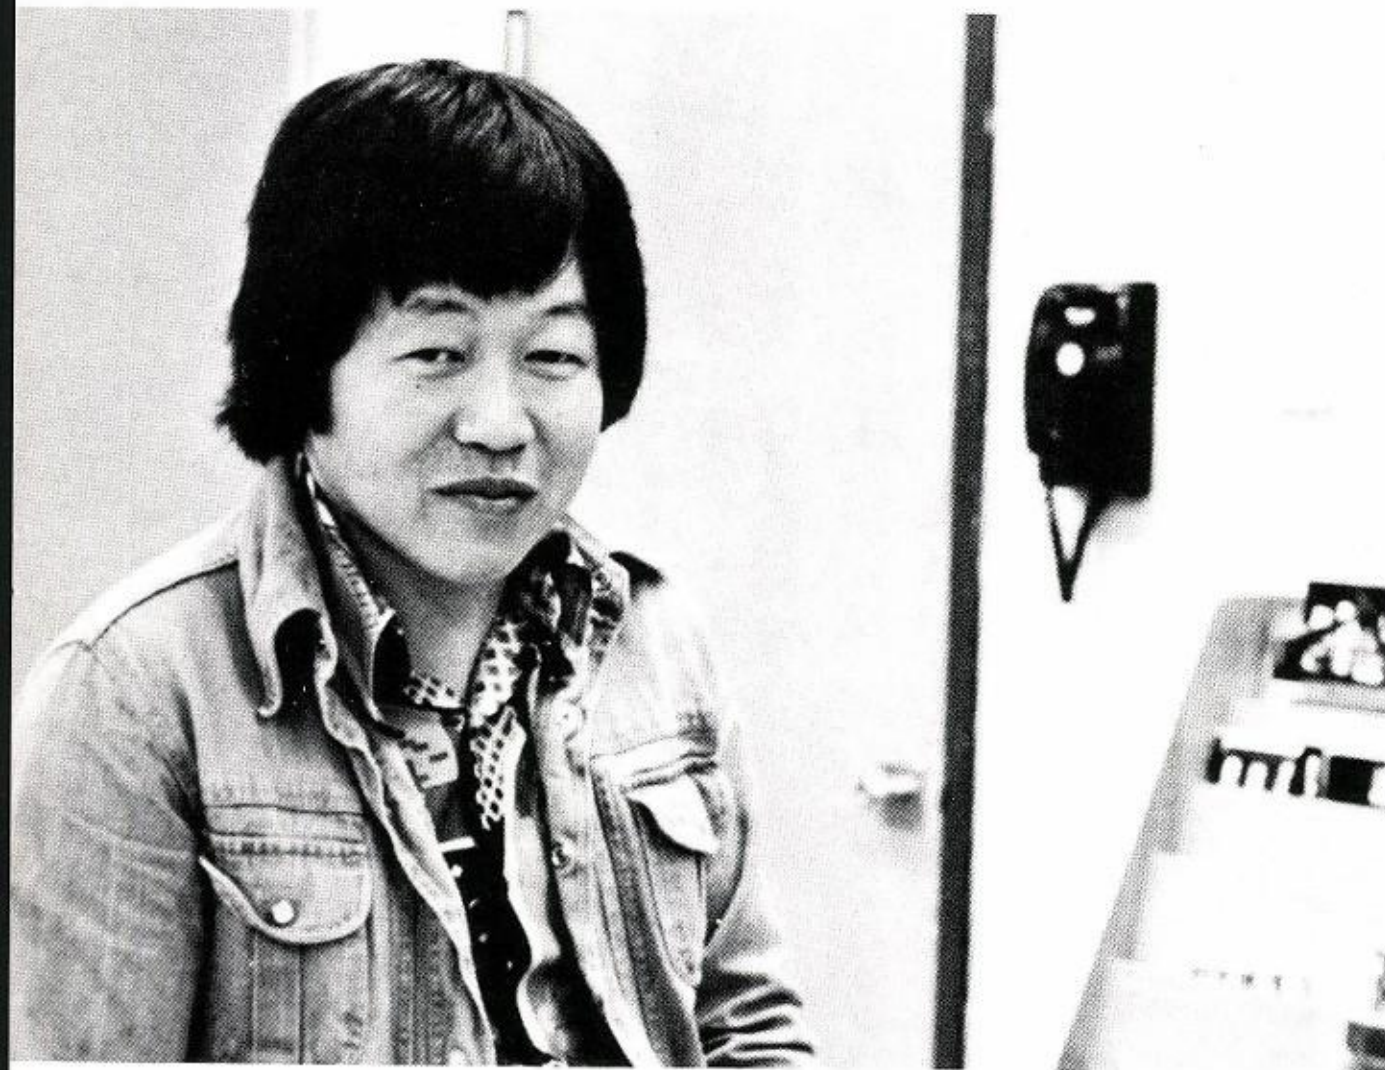

Harry Slosson; Fishing.

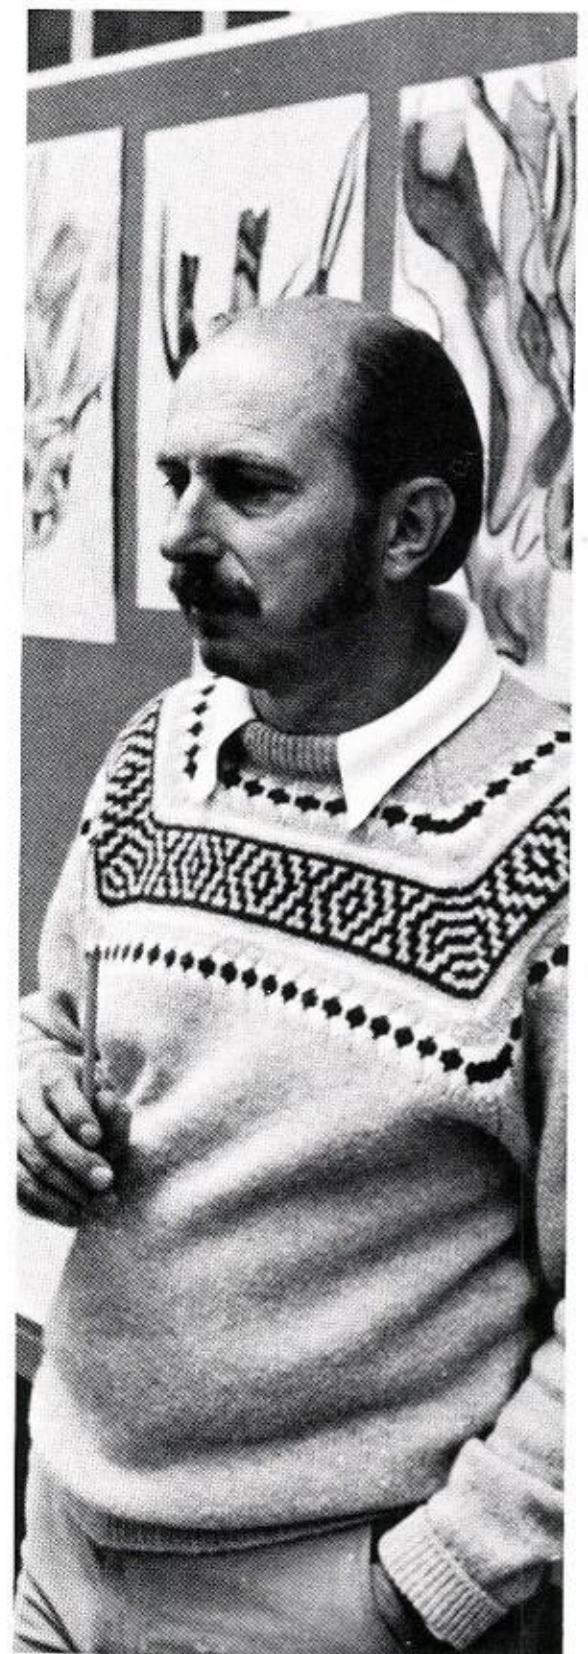

Larry Nelson; Fishing.

Social Studies, Music, And Art Departments Are Sad When...

The singing of scales to painting by numbers; From these basics, we go to performing concert music and creating our own piece of art. The Music and Art departments give the students their chances to show their talents and be creative in their own ways.

Richard Hoy: When Seniors leave.

John Ringen: Mondays.

William Saas: Students lack of interest in music.

Currie Morrison: People that don't work to their ability.

At one time or another, every student will go through one of the courses of the History department. The whole point of these courses, is to give us an understanding of the past, so it's possible to understand the events of the present.

Lynn Whipple: When students overlook opportunities open to them.

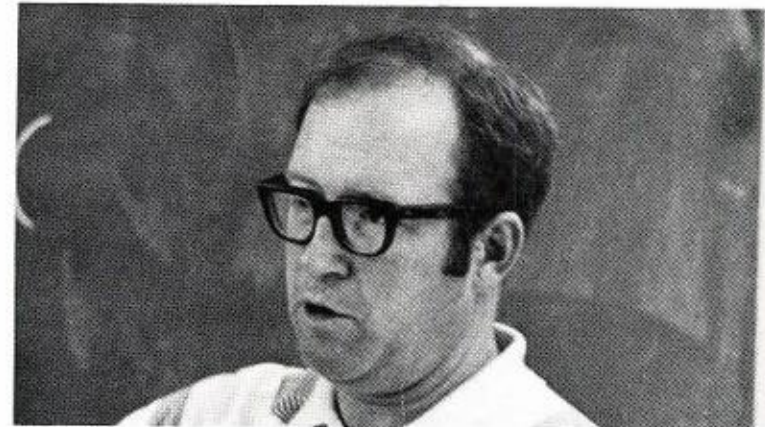

Jackie Lee: When you've gotten to know students, and the semester ends.

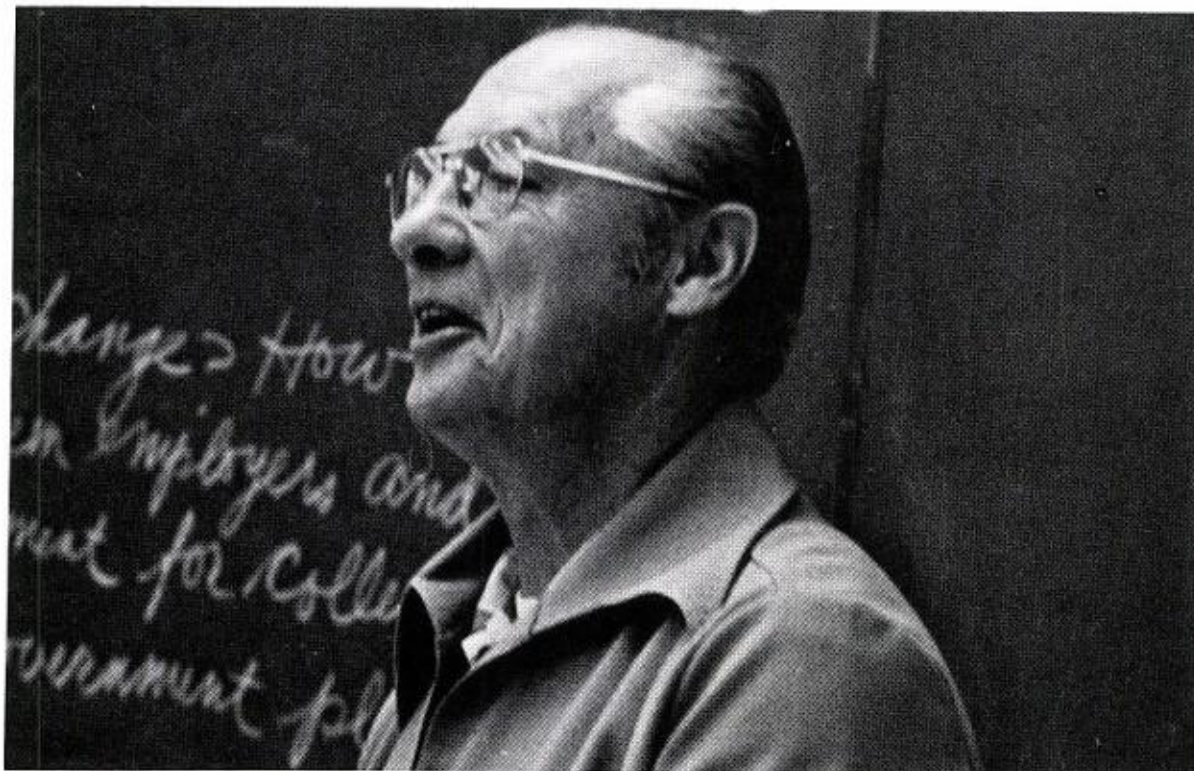

August Kroll: The Senior Class leaving with graduation.

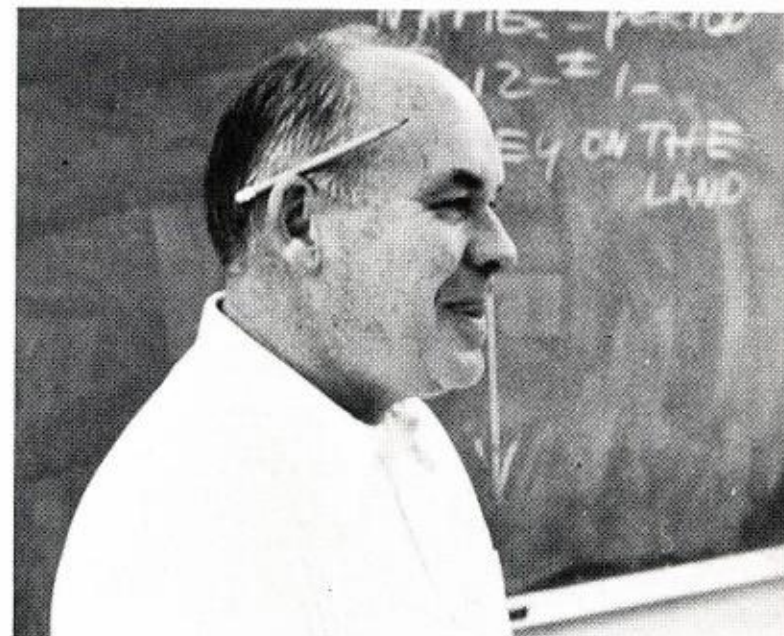

Gerald Hardcastle: Seeing students waste talent.

John Burke: Coming to school in the morning.

Francis Morris: Students that don't understand the important effect history has in their lives.

Bob Moen: Coping with a variety of student abilities.

Health, Science, And Physical Education Departments Love Their Work Because...

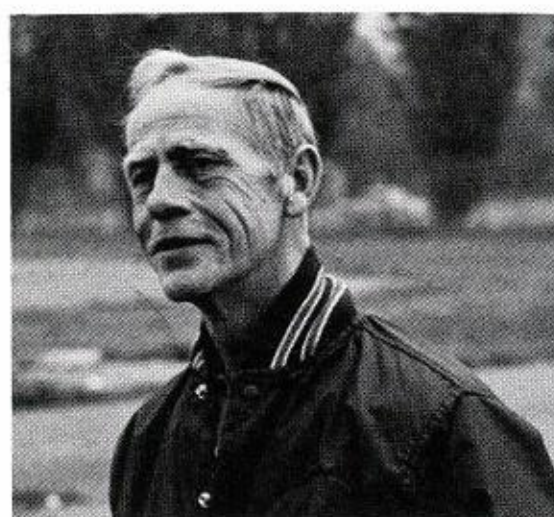

Usually students start their Science classes, with Biology I. Some will continue, and, with greater detail, study more specific courses such as chemistry or physics. All are practical Sciences.

Health, a Sr. requirement, is at a more personal level, because it deals with the human body. It teaches subjects such as mental health and anatomy.

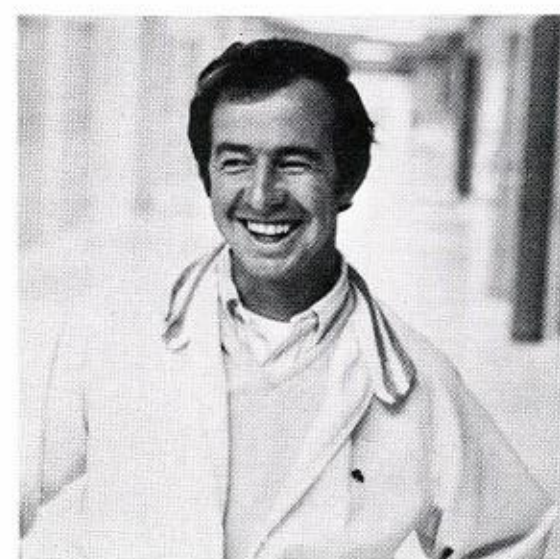

Competing against others, builds our strength both mentally and physically. This is the whole idea behind Physical Education. Besides exercising, and teaching certain skills, it sharpens our coordination.

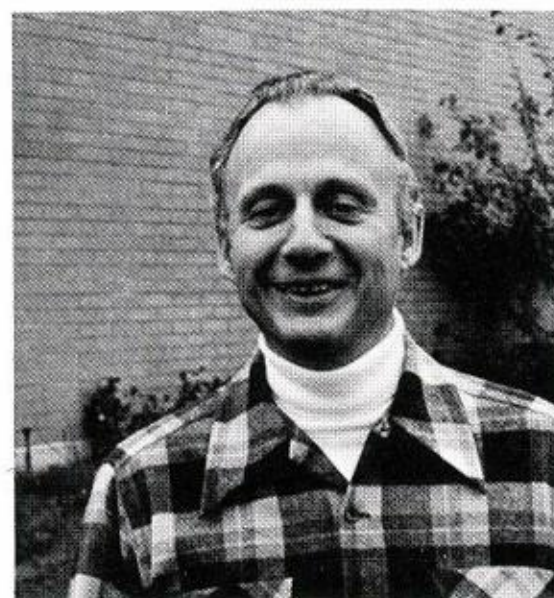

Dorothy Lindsay: Working with young people.

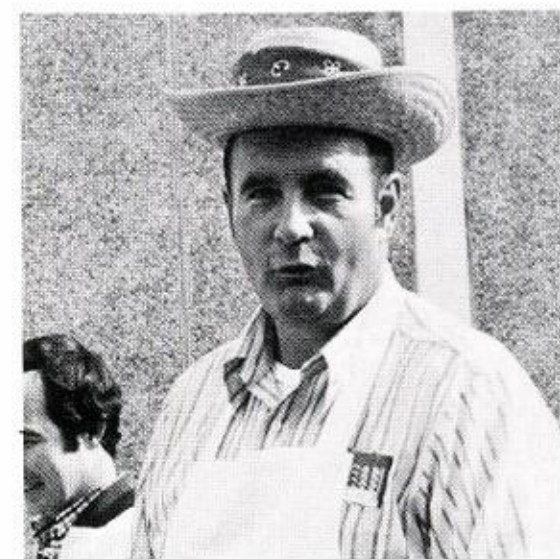

Clifford Allen: The relationships I have with some students.

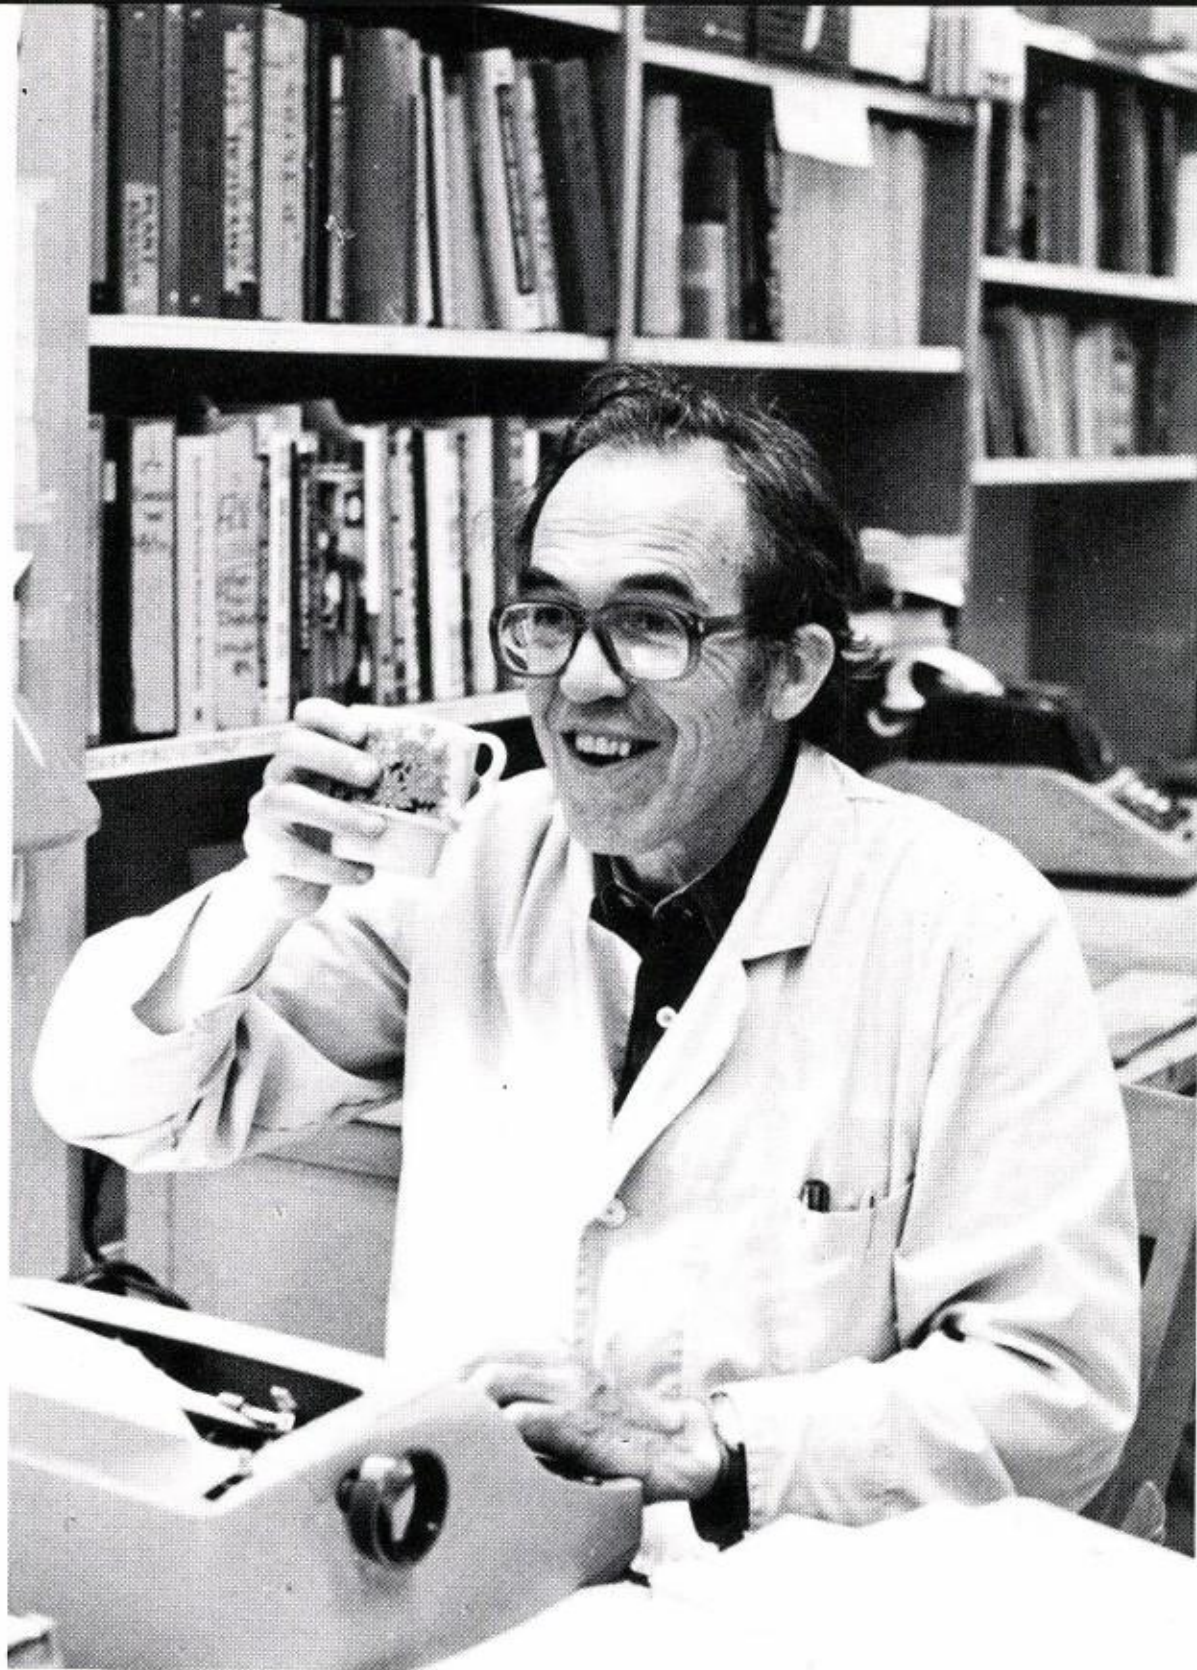

Gary Case: Variety of my work.

Thomas Evans: When students are interested, it's challenging.

Clifford Hogle: Being around students, and love getting my pay check!

William Brockman: Biology is fascinating, love to teach it.

Laurel Macartney: Helping and working with students.

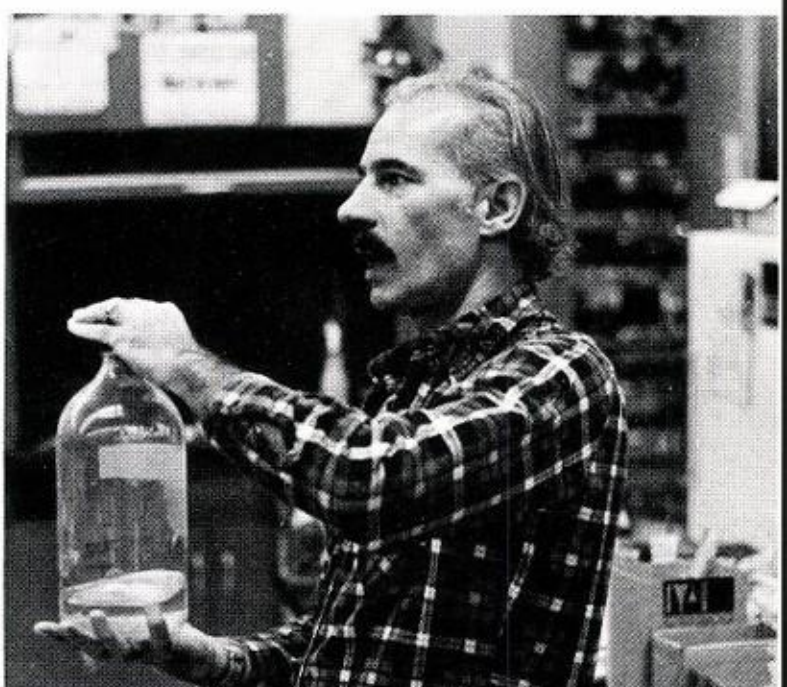

Linda Wing: Enthusiastic kids.

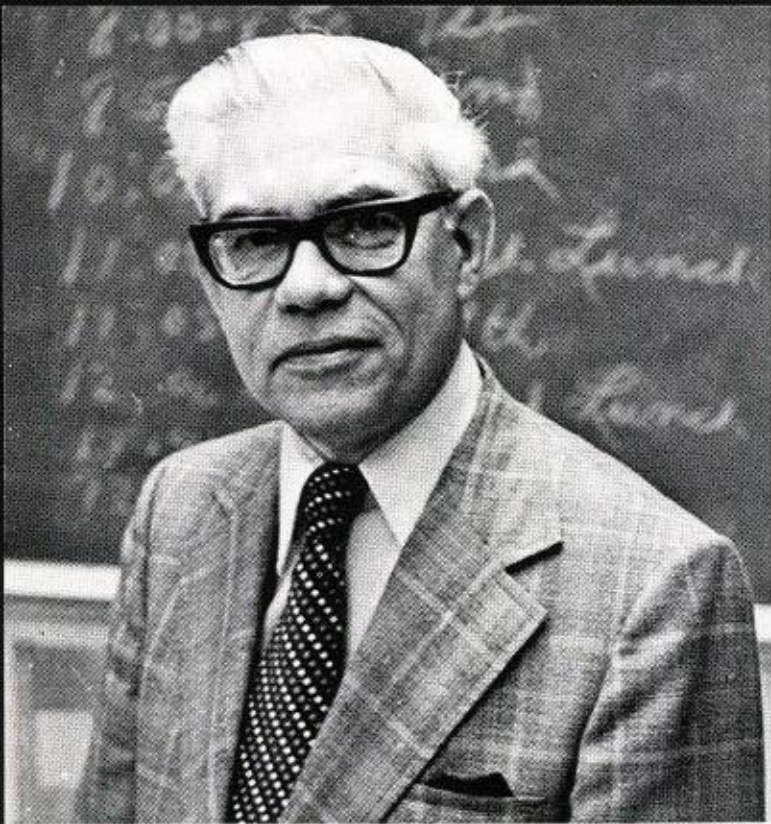

Nancy Kain: Love the program at Nathan Hale, kids get more out of it.

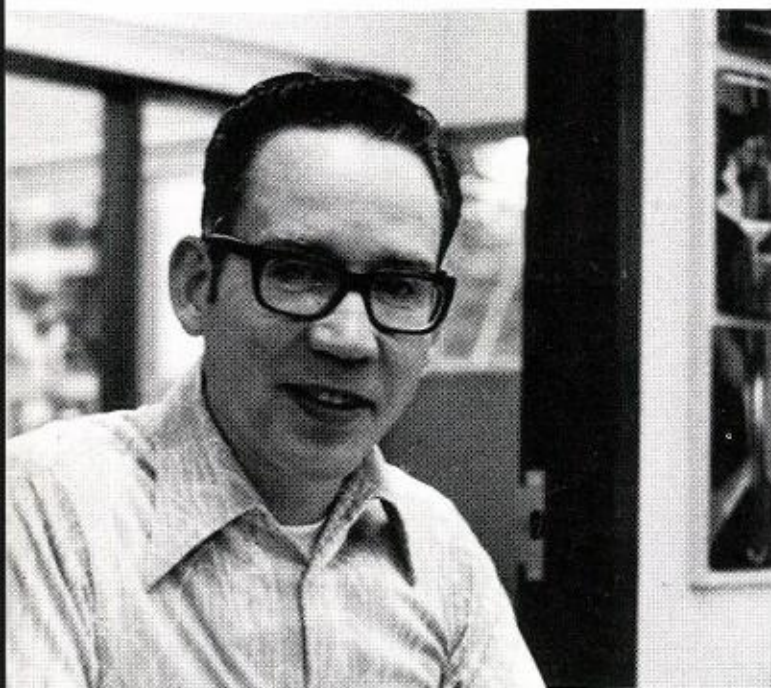

Thomas Brook: The Kids.

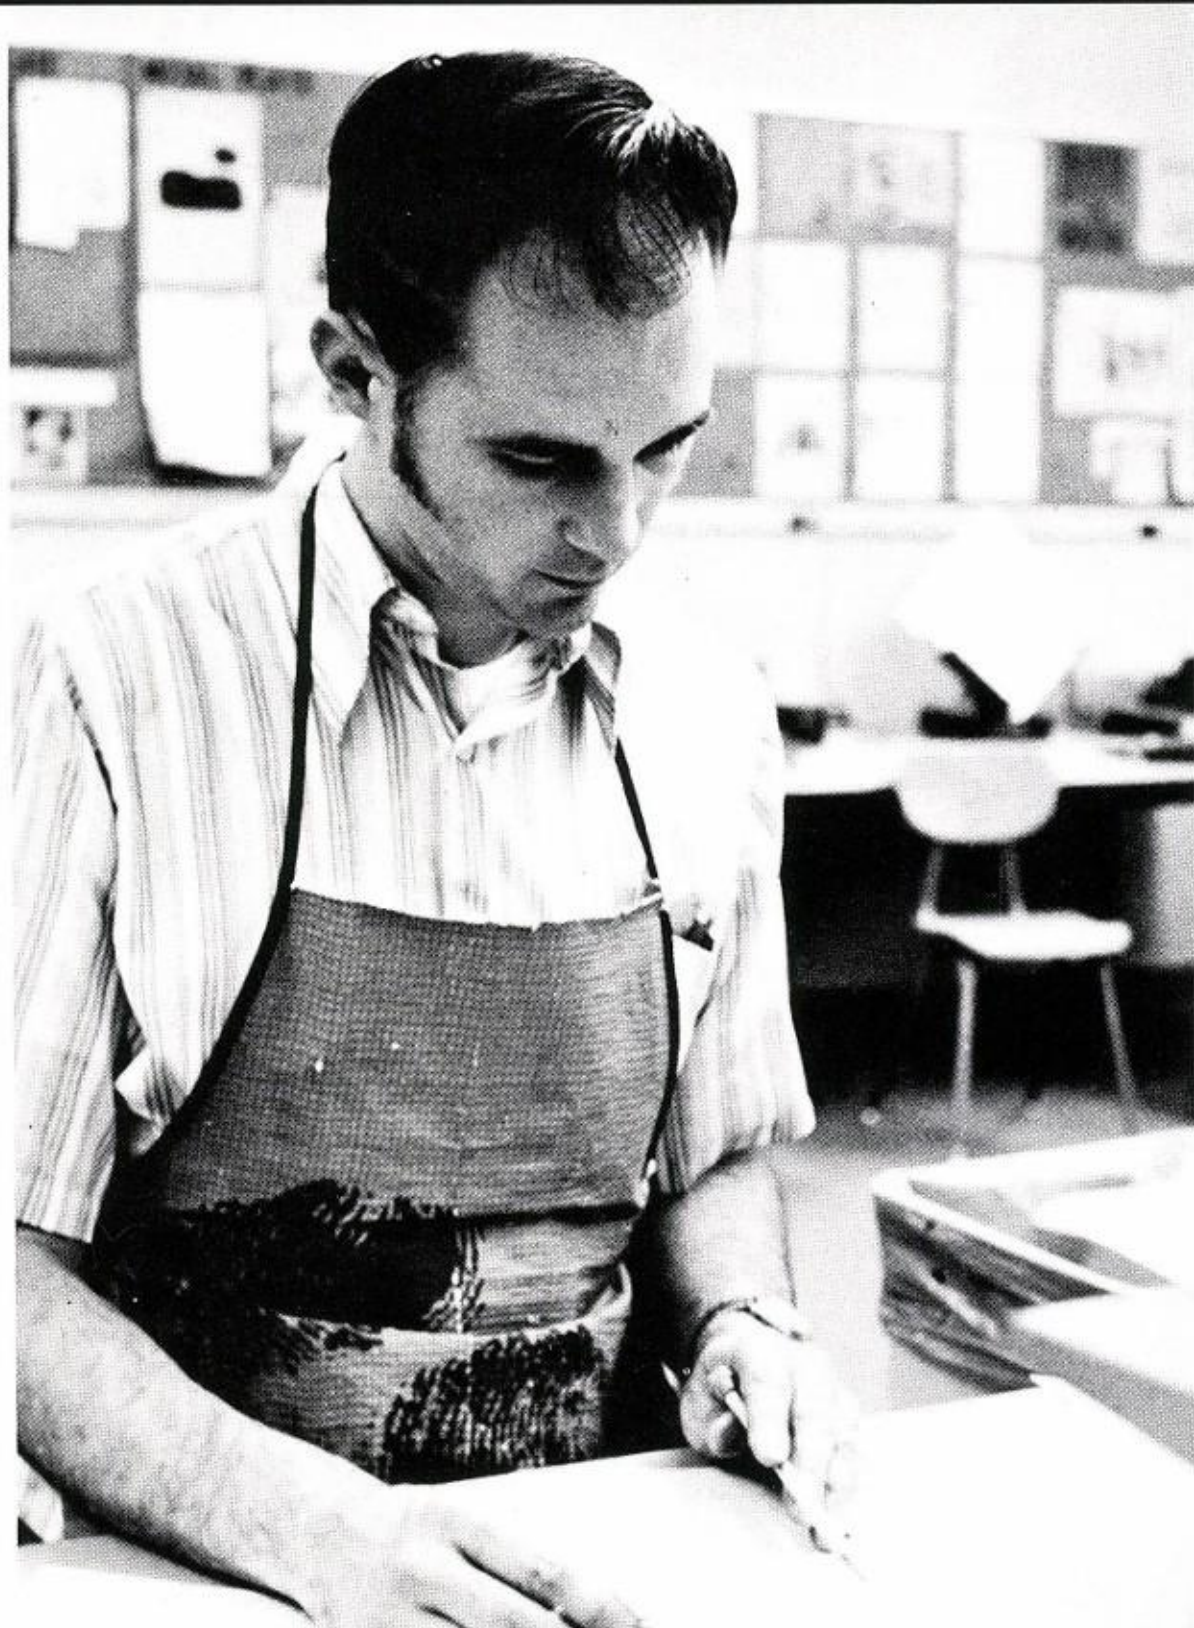

Coleman Leuthy: Chemistry and working with students.

Donald Hanika: When students are interested in learning.

Doug Houk: Being prepared, and students that follow instructions.

Arthur Reiswig: Students that are enthused about a topic.

Don Smith: When kids want to learn.

Betty Gray: When students are serious about academic study.

Britta Hunt: The students and Fridays.

Igor Gladstone: To deal with the best society has to offer, young people.

Foreign Language And Business Teachers Get In A Good Mood When

Whether it's learning how to type, make stationary, or learning the law, Business Education is important in many students' lives. All these classes are designed for living in a business society.

Sprechen sie deutsch? Parlez-vous francais? Habla usted espanol? These help to say Foreign Language Department. There are other languages taught at Nathan Hale, and some of the teachers even teach two different languages.

Elsa Kopta: Teaching everyday.

Dale Fleury: The people I work with.

Ann Charles: Don't get annoyed, because I get the enjoyment, not responsibility.

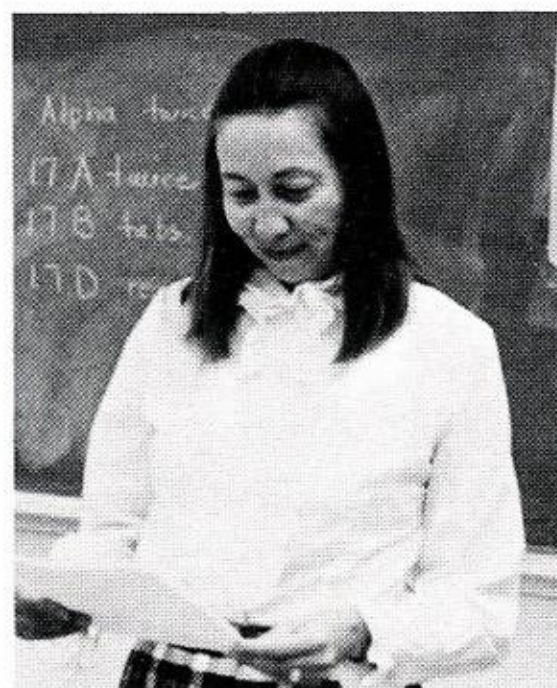

Mary Ellen Nevers: Having to make reports, when I'd rather be teaching.

Bruce Barger: Having to get up in the morning.

Lisa Bowman: People that don't let handicapped people show their abilities.

Mary Helen Rupp: Paper work, because it takes up time.

Margaret Kleyn: When I don't have an instructional assistant.

Industrial and Special Education teachers get annoyed when

Learning disabilities and other handicaps are handled by the Special Education department. Highly trained workers, aided by assistants with practical skills, work in this department with feeling, and with their own "special style".

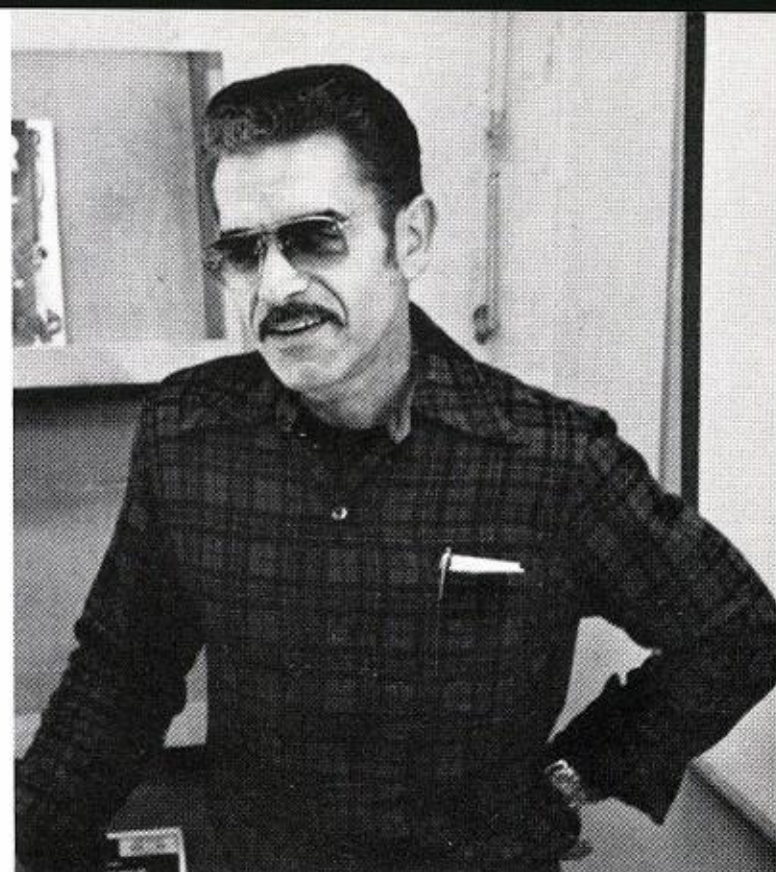

Charles Stenberg: Students that don't clean up when they're supposed to.

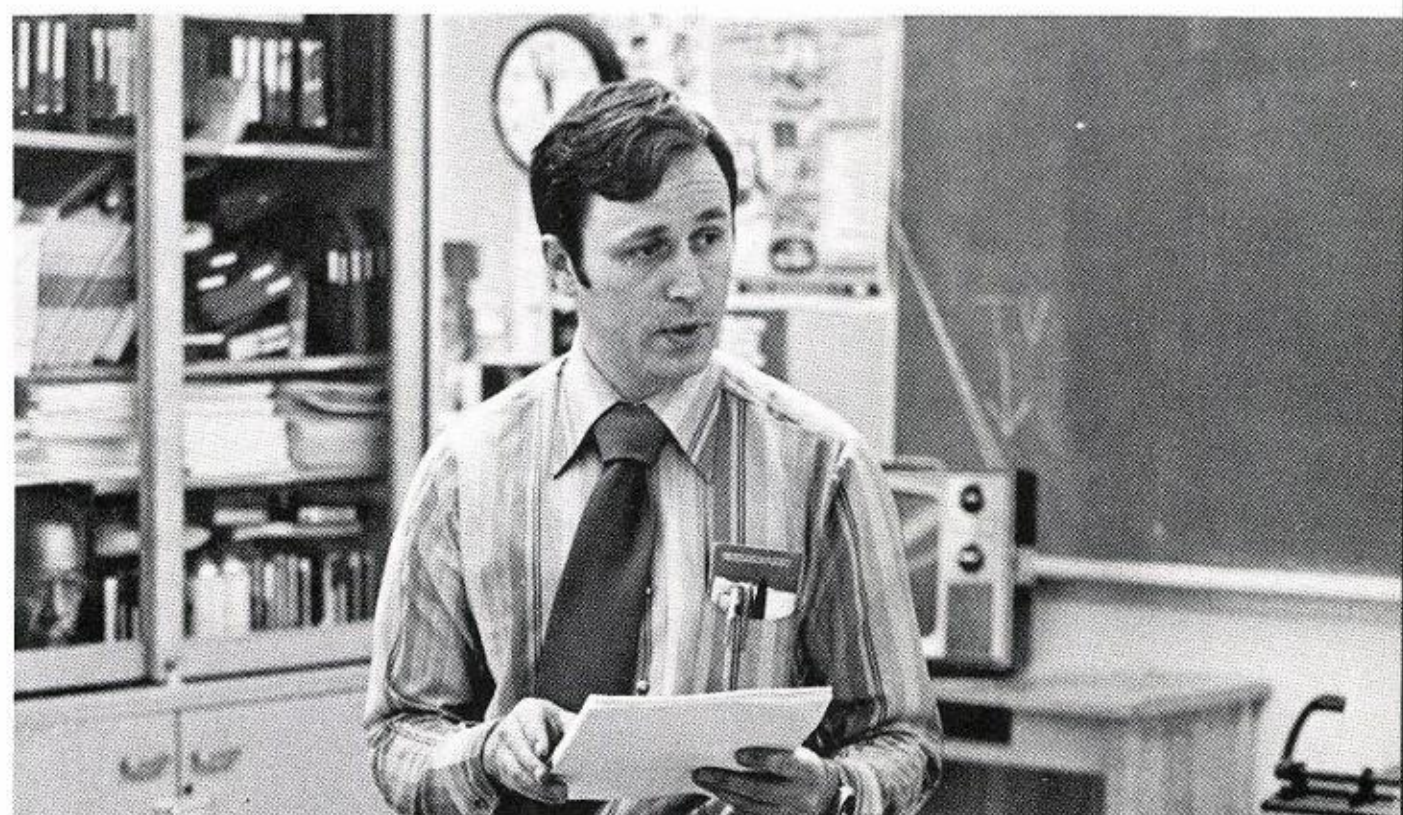

John Fullner: Tardies and little things that come up.

Francis Heath: Students that don't come to class on time.

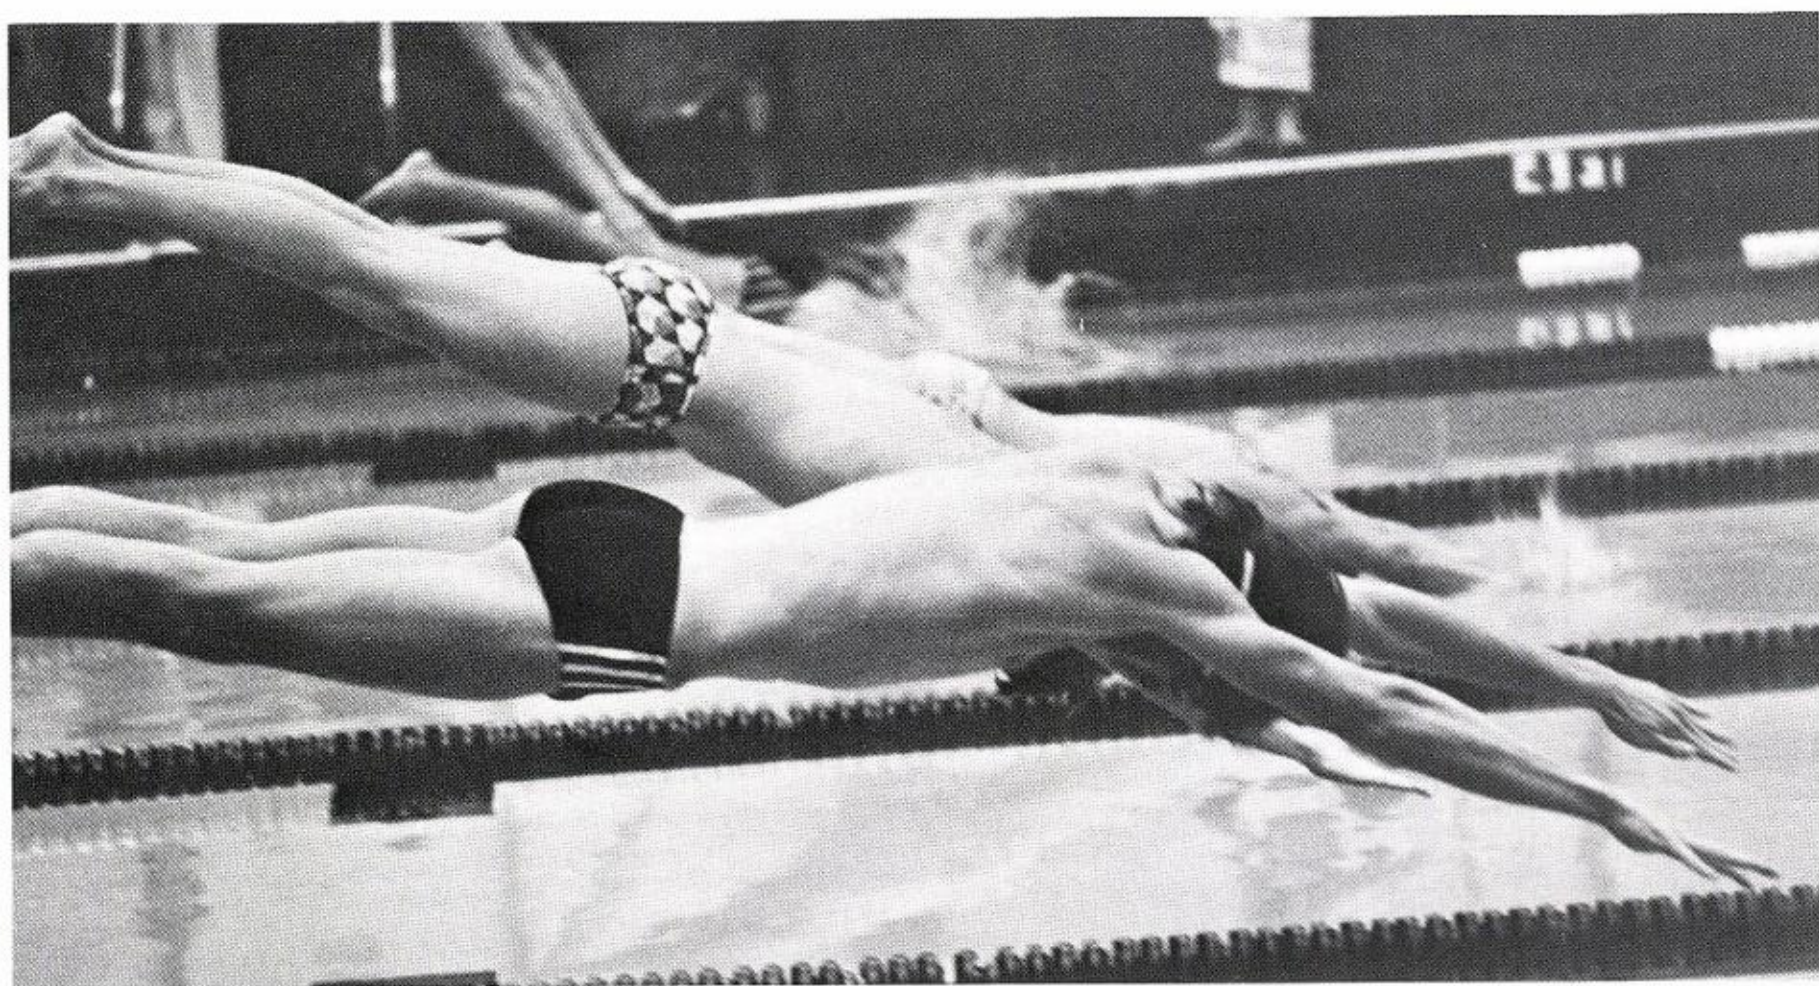

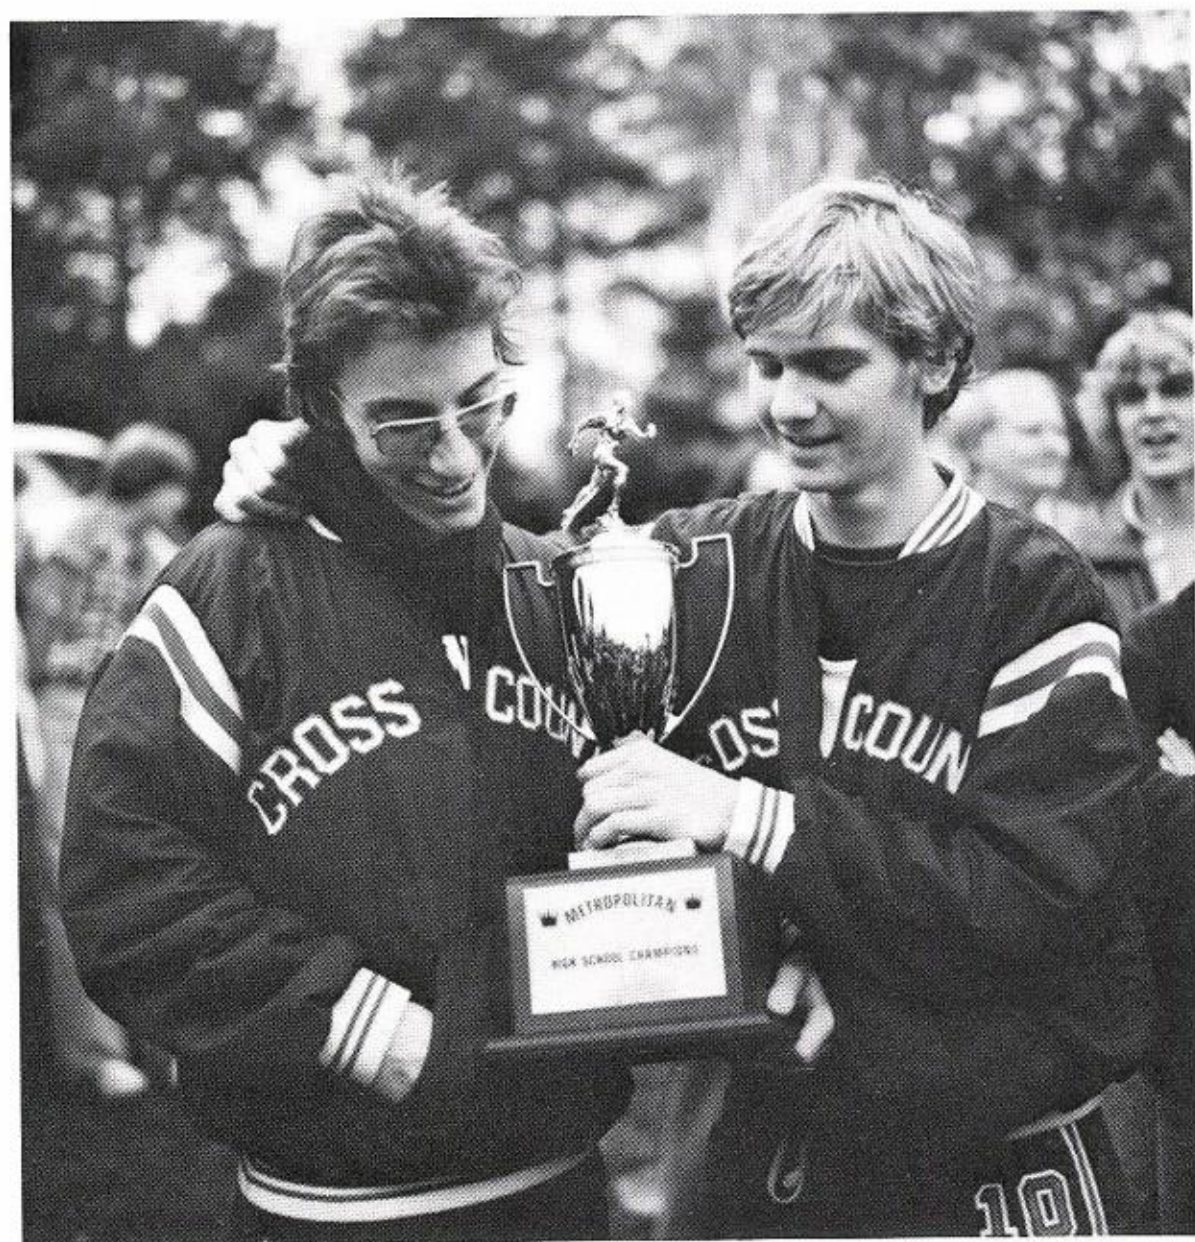

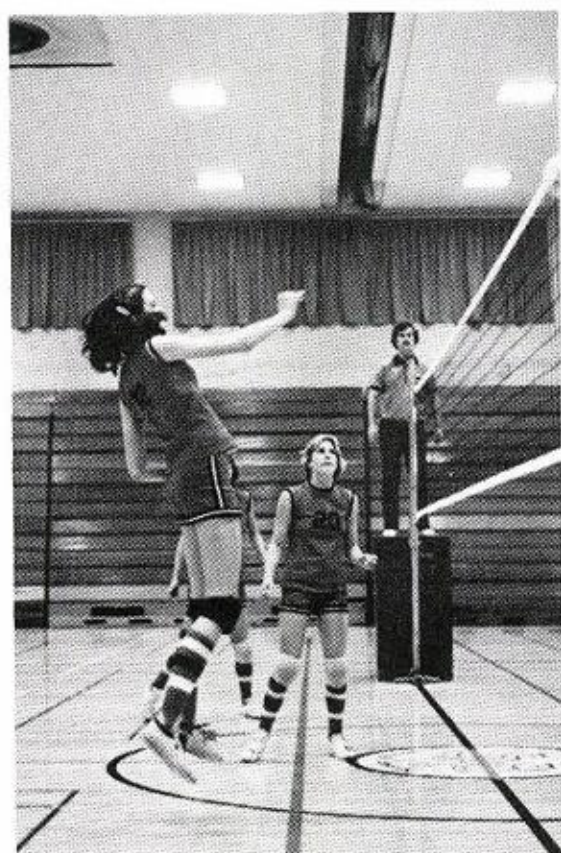

Joseph Sexton: Students acting immature.

Lawrence Adams: The sensitivities of Downtown Administrations, to students within the program.

If you want to learn how to build a house, including the welding and woodwork, and even planting and caring for the plants outside your home, then Industrial Arts may interest you. In these classes you learn many trades which may help you get a job, plus be handy around the home.

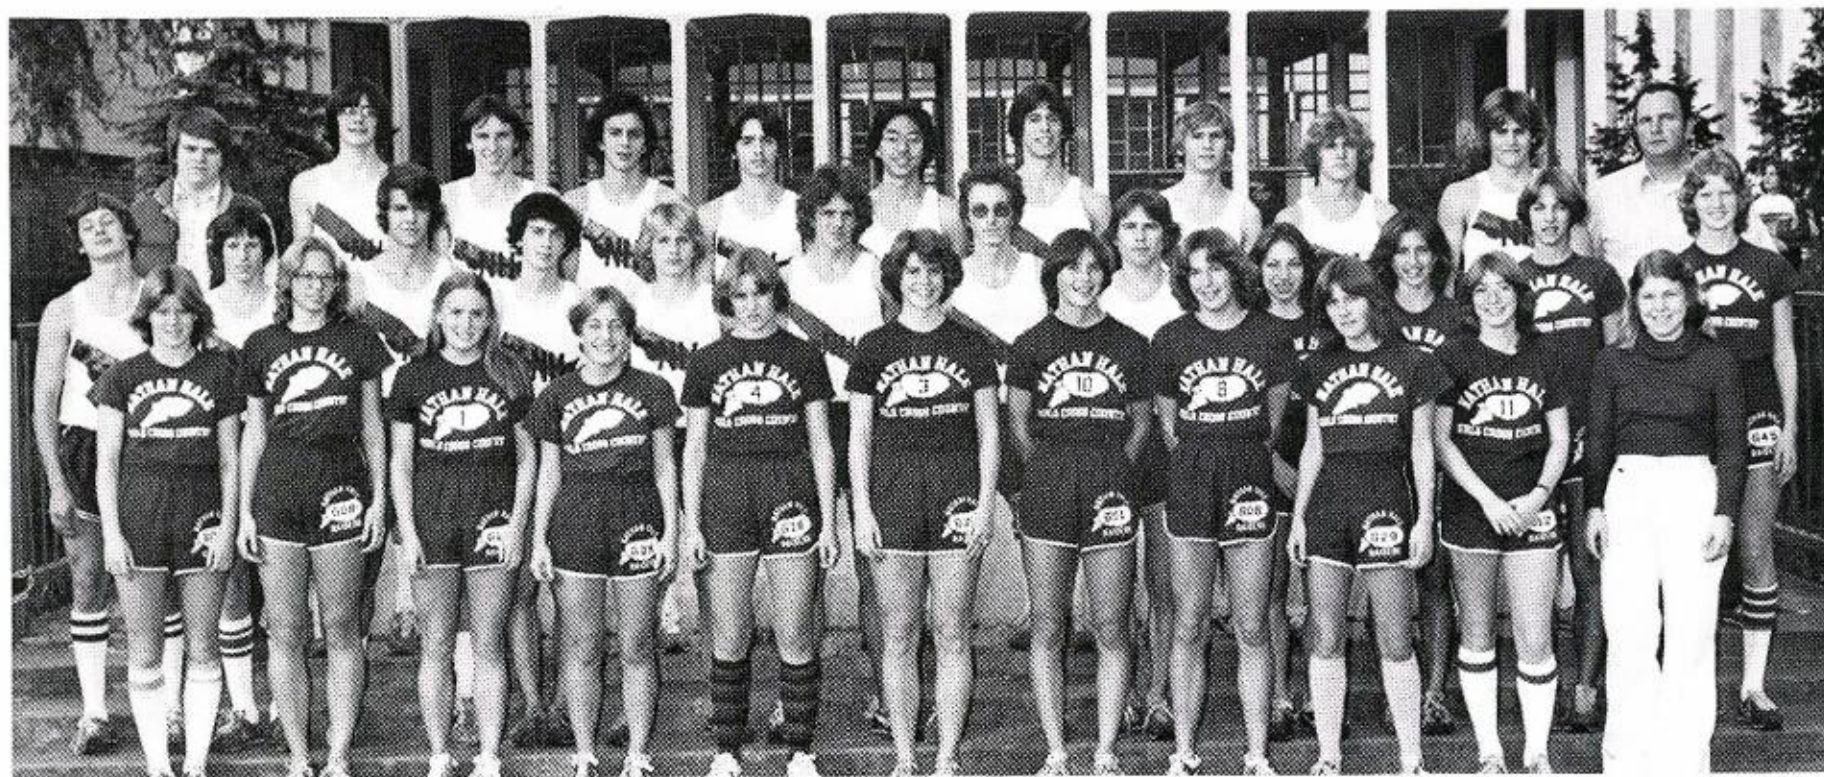

ATHLETICS

From the beginning to the end
There is anticipation,
But it is their determination
That will make them win.
Anxious is the team

They have great pride;
Their efforts bring them victory
and respect,
Excitement is high at their

Anticipating a good season, the Nathan Hale boys varsity team was well rewarded. Ending up with a 10-0 win loss record at the season's end, the boys easily took 1st in Metro, led by Jim Meissner 6th, Paul Harshman 7th, Kelly Geiger 8th, Steve Miller 9th, Chris Anderson 13th, Karl Perry 17th, and John Wade 24th. At State, the boys took a disappointing 9th place, led by Kelly Geiger placing 26th.

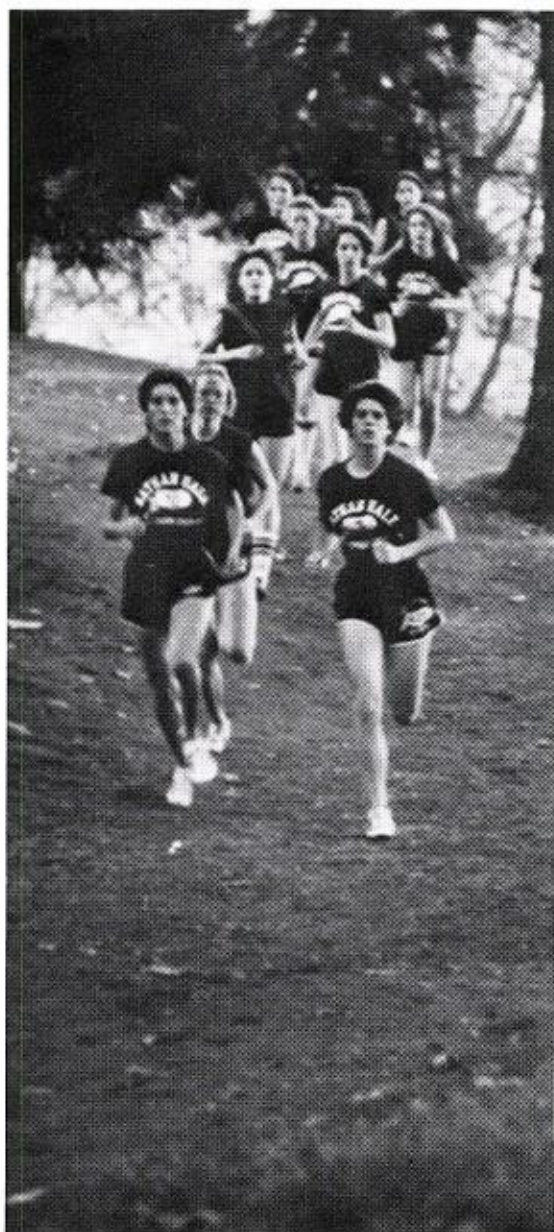

With more girls involved in Cross Country than ever before, the varsity girls succeeded in winning 8 meets, but lost 2 meets to Shorecrest and Ingraham. The girls placed third in Metro, with Robin Mortimer placing 9th, Jenny Fredericks 15th, Jenny Forbes 19th, Lynne Baudin 20th, Lynn Gunby 25th, Linda Dennie 33rd, and Linda Davis 35th, which qualified them for the State Meet. The girls placed 13th, led by Robin Mortimer who placed 28th.

Second great year for program

The softball program was started in 1976 to help equalize the number of girls' and boys' sports. Last year the team started out in true Raider Spirit with an impressive 5-2 record, finishing second in Metro.

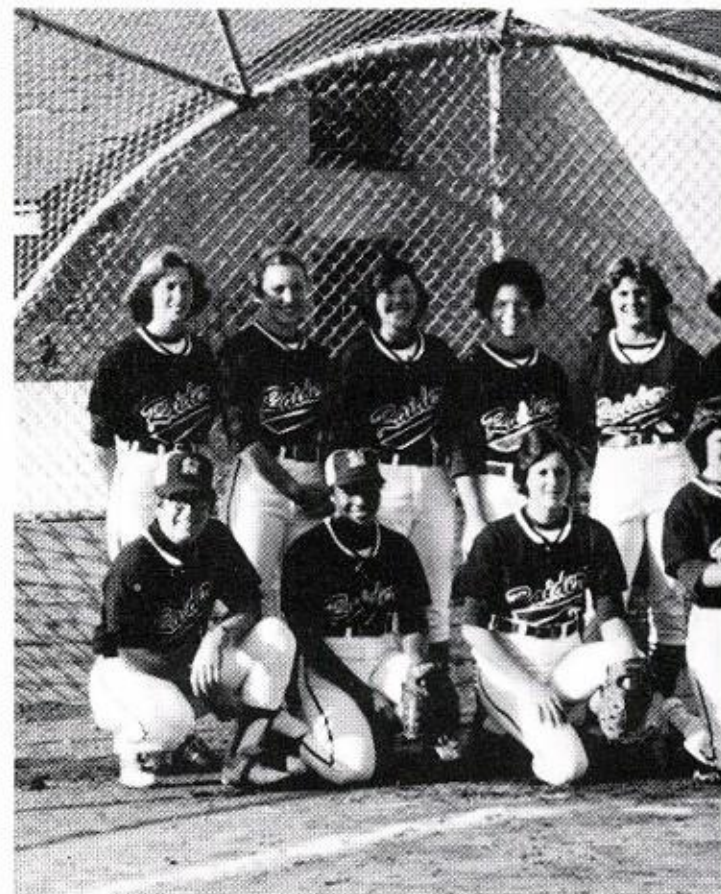

Being a young team this year, the 1977 Raiders didn't fare so well. They pulled off a 3rd place in North Division play, and tried their best to play well.

Swimmers End Season 4-2

The Nathan Hale swim team had a good season this year and finished with a 4-2 record. Being undefeated, the Raiders became anxious towards the end of the season, but lost meets to Shorewood and Roosevelt. The Raiders placed sixth in division and sixth in the All-Metro Finals.

Outstanding swimmers for the boys were Hal Hart, Larry Little, Mark Lyon, Mark Dreke, Brian Lagerberg and John Wilder, who set two school records in the 50 free and 100 back. Outstanding swimmers for the girls were Linda Averill, Paige Kilborne and Tracy Swanberg.

The Raiders placed second over all in the All-Comers meet. This meet was for all swimmers not qualifying for metro.

UNDERCLASS

Waiting
For things to come,
Are the classes of '79 and '80.
Dreaming of what's to be,
Things that as yet,
We can not see.
Not knowing everything,
And it doesn't matter.
Anticipating
The end,
But still Being surprised
When we finally
Make it.

Jeanna, I get to sign it (this) twice have a great year (summer)

To be content with things we have,
is not a trait we hold.

To live for all the things we want, is not within our mold.

We want to live for things beyond, to yearn for all our dreams.

We want to hold the future's torch, and anticipate its gleam.

ACTIVITIES

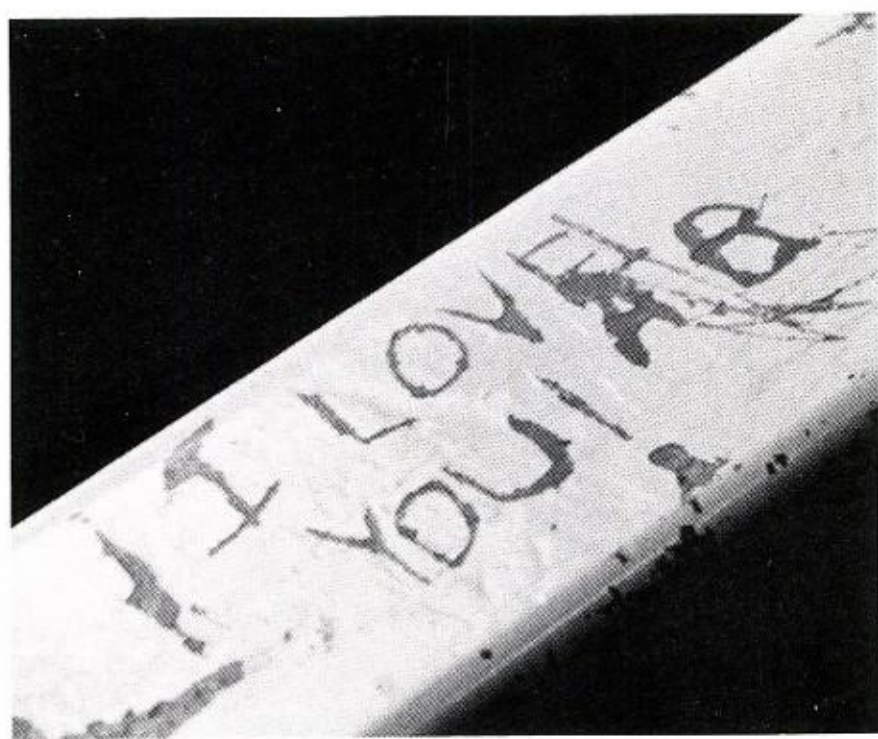

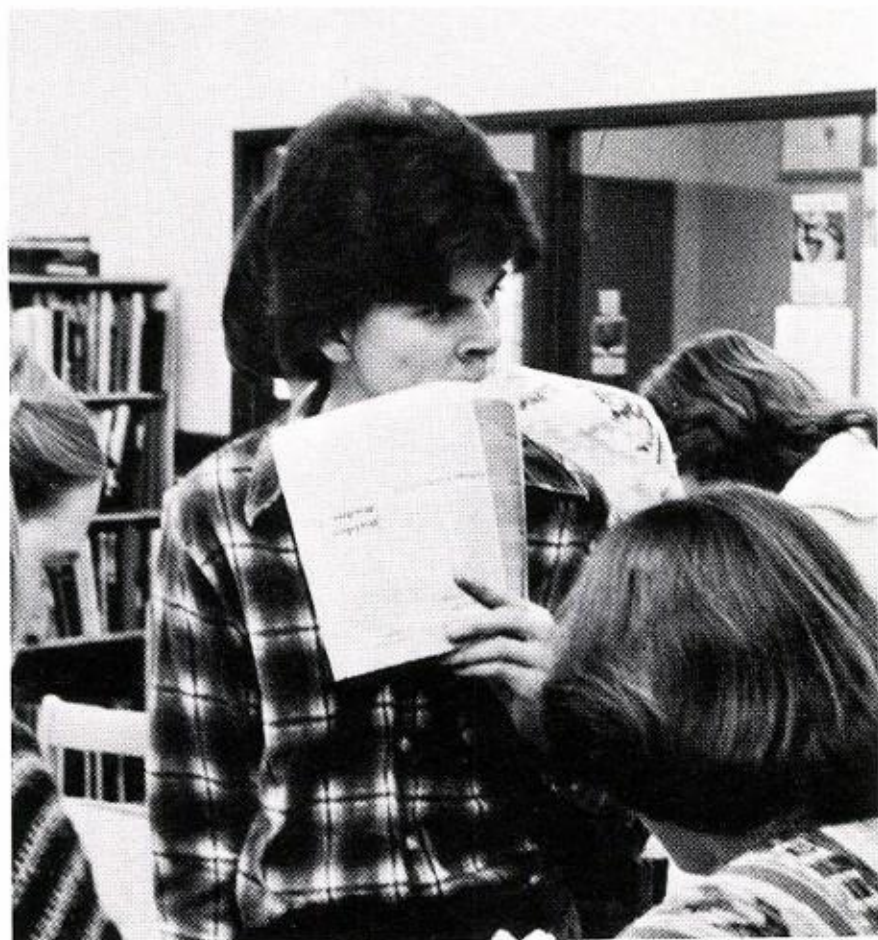

What starts as an idea
grows into an achievement and it's all part of doing something it is an activity.

Getting involved brings pride in knowing you are part of the excitement
that goes on everyday.

As with an hour glass
time passes.
And with each grain of sand part of us becomes part of what was

And when we remember
we think of the emotions,
for they are the memories.

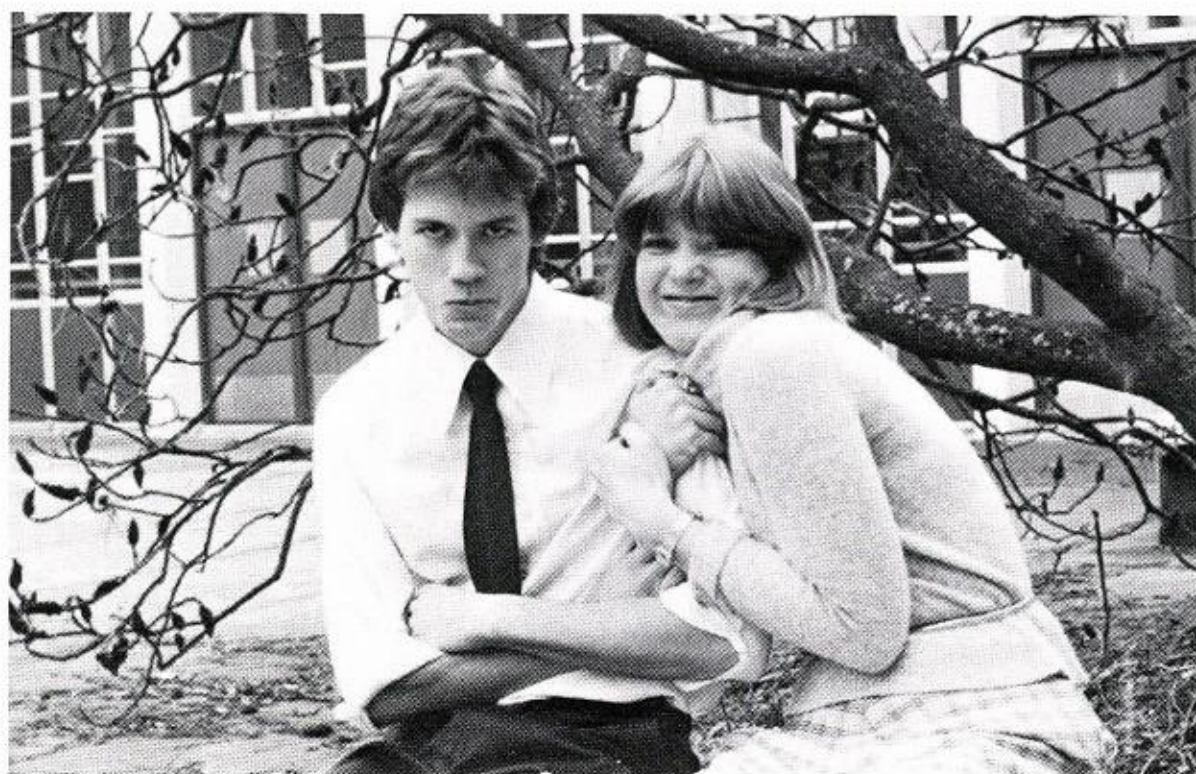

Hi Jenna!
Didn't see ya too much this year but we had fun when we were. Hope ya do a lot of fun stuff this summer and I'll see ya later!

ASNH Officers, Committees, Reported Crazy

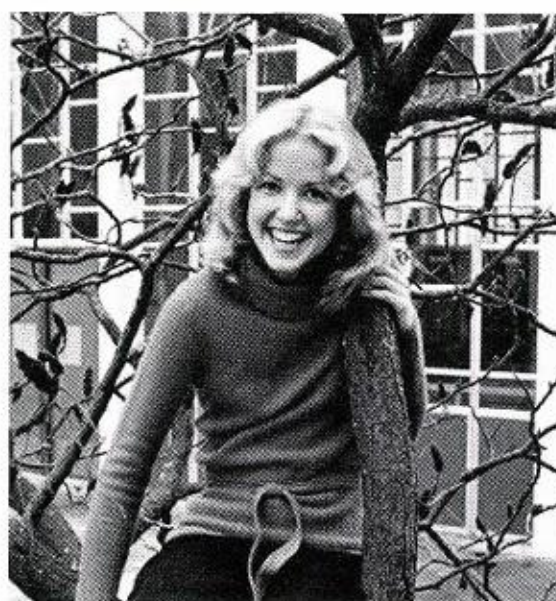

Treasurer, Jody Haavig

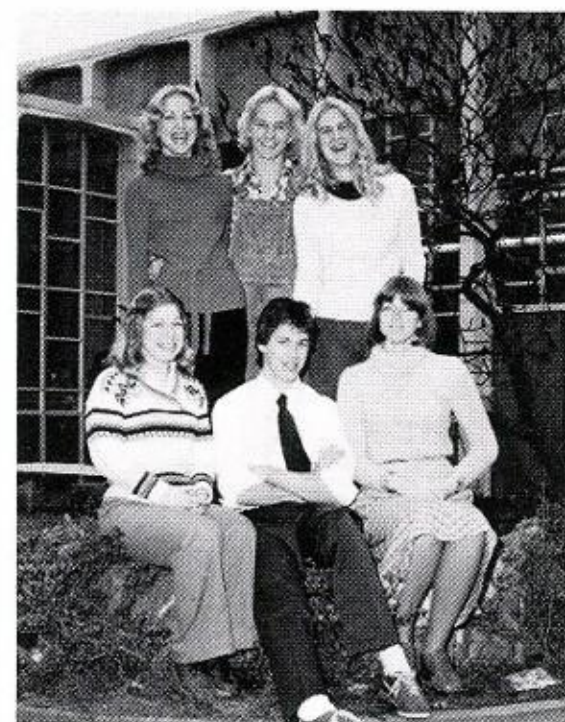

This year the new name of ASNH was given to the student body officers of Nathan Hale. ASNH stands for Associated Students of Nathan Hale. The officers promoted a variety of events to keep the students associated and happy. Among them were assemblies, Student Union meetings, supervising a number of committees, and taking part in a new program called Inter-High which involves meeting other student governments from Seattle high schools.

President, Kris Gellein, Vice President, Heidi Dunbar

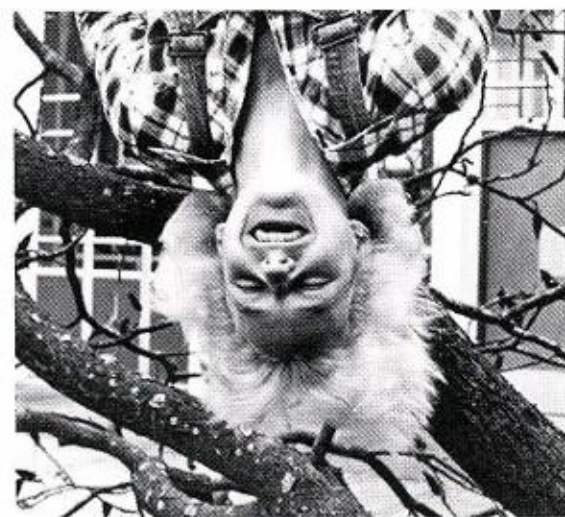

Secretary, Kelly Crim

Without these people, many of the activities we took for granted might never have happened. They are another very important part of ASNH. In order to do their job, they have to be hard-working (and crazy), and these people definitely are! Not pictured, Suzanne Bauer and Dohn Kuhn-Y.D.D.

Senior Committees

The Seniors this year have always been on top of events. What with these committee heads no wonder. So let's hear it for the class of '78! "YOU'RE GREAT!"

KNHC, a radio station ran by students. This helps them to better understand not only communications but also to understand themselves and work with others.

Assisted by Mr. Adams the students create their own programs that are broadcasted throughout the neighborhood. Many students say that radio is not only fun but also shows them how to plan ahead for the future by starting today.

A.S.C. And International Club Speak For Themselves

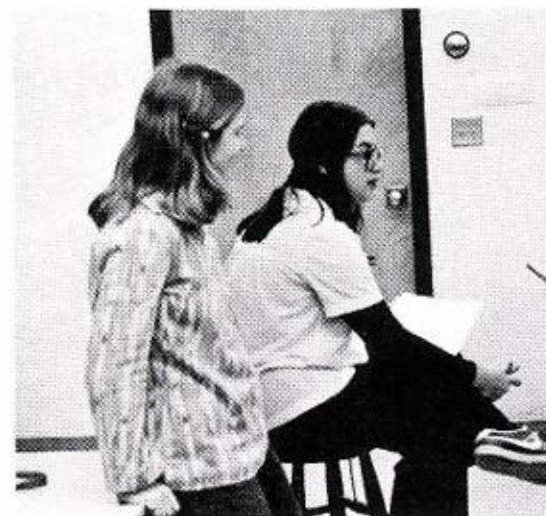

The International Club is a popular club at Nathan Hale. The purpose of this club is to further the understanding of other countries' cultures. To aid in this, they talk to students of other countries, have dances, and progressive dinners with traditional dishes of other countries. Some of the events that happened this year were: progressive dinners at three houses ending in a dance in November, a Christmas party, and a trip to Chinatown during the Chinese New Year.

The International Club "smile".

Ticket Club

Ticket Club Advisor

Hidden Clubs

If you have gone to any sports events that have taken place in the gym, you've probably noticed the Nathan Hale Ticket Club, taking your money or asking to see your activity card. By collecting this money, ticket club helps raise funds for the athletic department. This club keeps very busy and is always looking for new members.

Group Chess game

The Chess Club is a quiet, unknown club. The game of chess is very old and is known as the game of Kings. The game requires the utmost concentration and comprehension of what your opponent will do. Sometimes chess is played for points, which is not a well known fact. Nonetheless this continues this age old game.

Oops! He saw it.

Drats. I didn't see that move.

Homecoming brings out the spirit at Hale

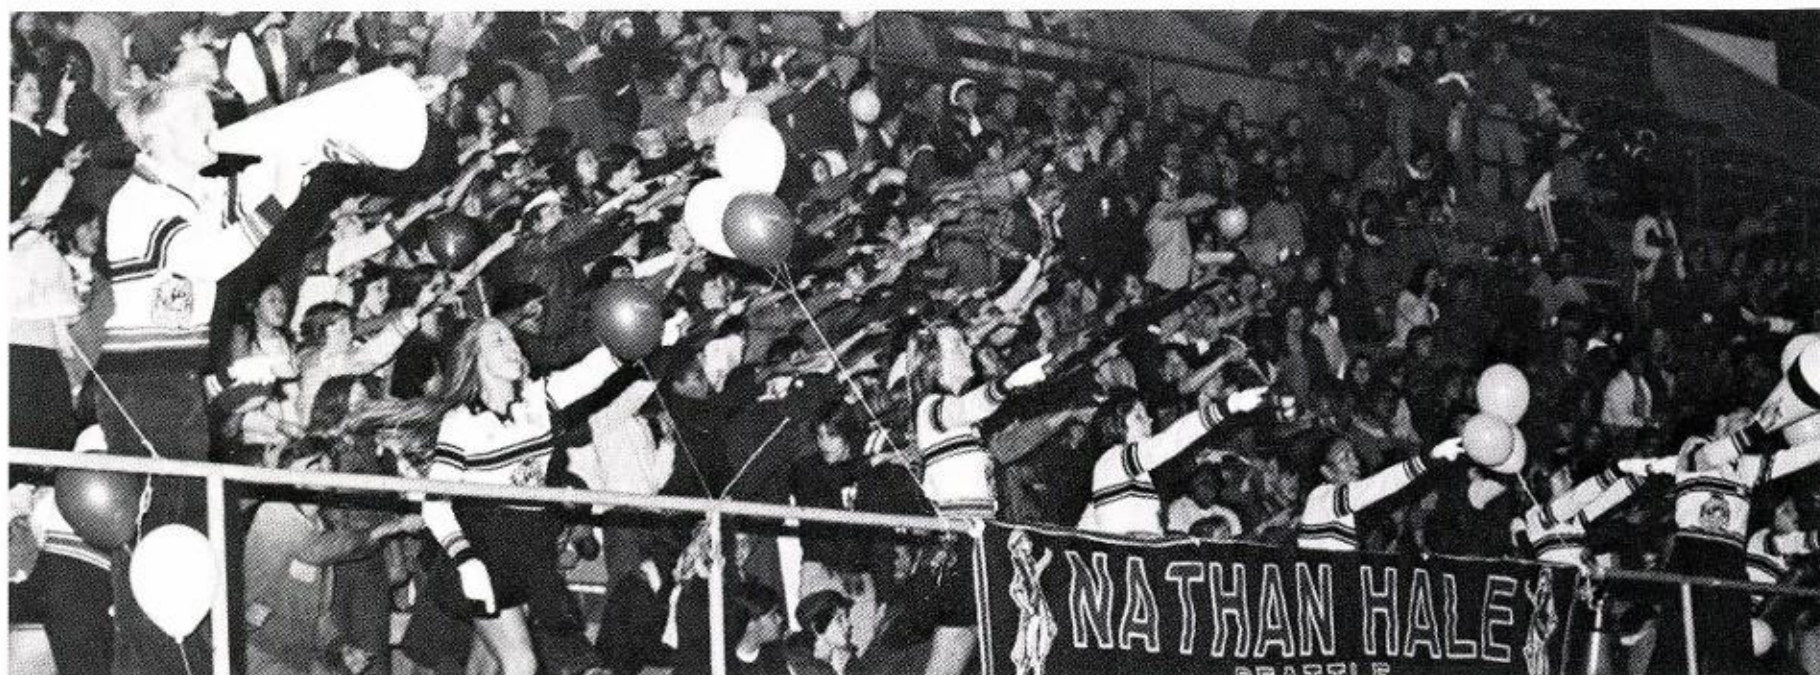

This year, Homecoming week was an activity-filled event. All week long contests between the classes were held through lunch contests, and culminated with an assembly on the last day. Slick vs. Slob day, Gangster day, Hat and Shades day, Hick day and Red, White & Blue day brought plenty of laughter and fun to the normally studious atmosphere at Hale. The barbeque and cake walk both turned out to be a great success. Homecoming week ended with the football game on Friday. Although the team suffered defeat there was still an atmosphere of spirit and pride just as there had been all week through the homecoming events.

The Thrill (?) of competition.

Push'em back, push'em back, way back!

"We've got spirit, how 'bout you?"

Ticket selling can be just a little boring.

Jenna,
It was fun knowing you.
You're a very jolly person.
I hope you always stay that way you know
PINOY STYLE

See you next year
Have fun

During Homecoming week, the emotions go wild!

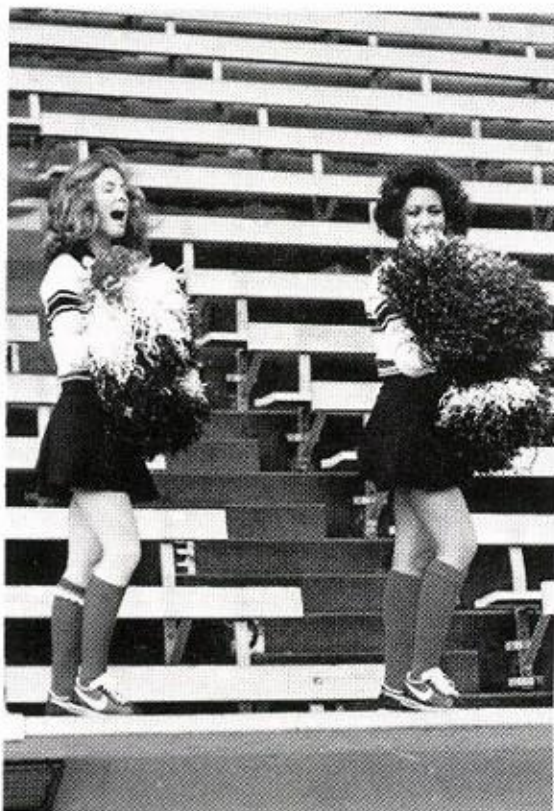

Enthusiastic crowd adds to the excitement of the Homecoming game.

Pep Club adds to the fun, excitement of school life

A school's pep squad is usually the most spirited and energetic group. At Hale this is definitely the case. The cheerleading squad has a major part in the publicizing and promoting of sports events in addition to bringing out the emotions of the crowd through their cheers.

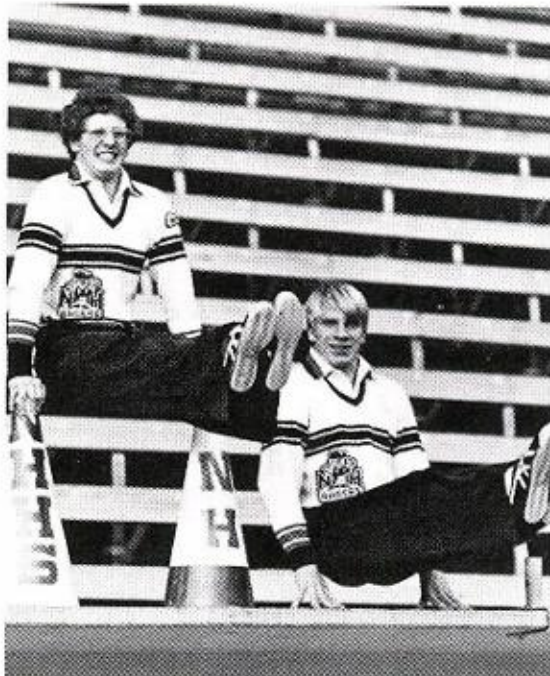

The Raider Rousers (not pictured) are another part of the pep squad. This year, headed by Irene Shults, they also helped publicize and support the teams by providing little "surprises" for the team members.

Makes It

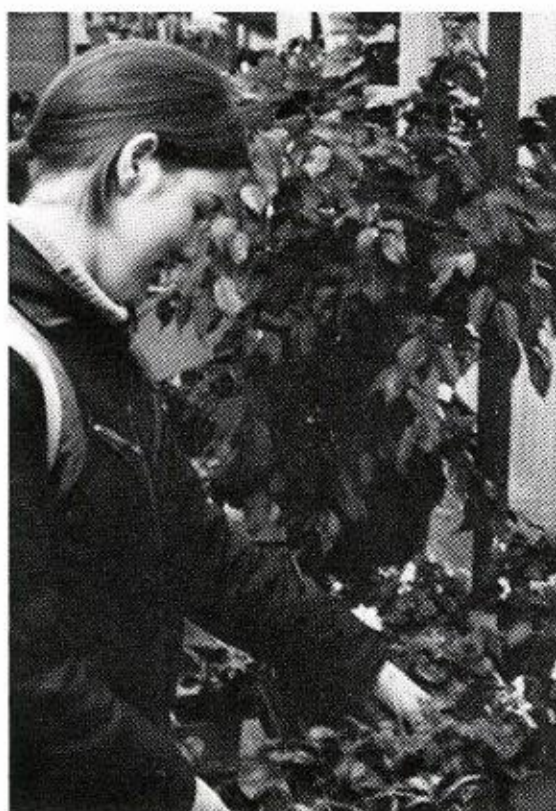

The only time most of us hear of FFA is when there's a plant sale. But YES folks, way out in the back 40 is a club that is really down to earth. The Future Farmers of America headed by Carrie Misener-President, Robert Foster-Vice-President, Annette Christensen-Treasurer, Janet Ruff-Secretary, and Advisor Mr. Fullner.

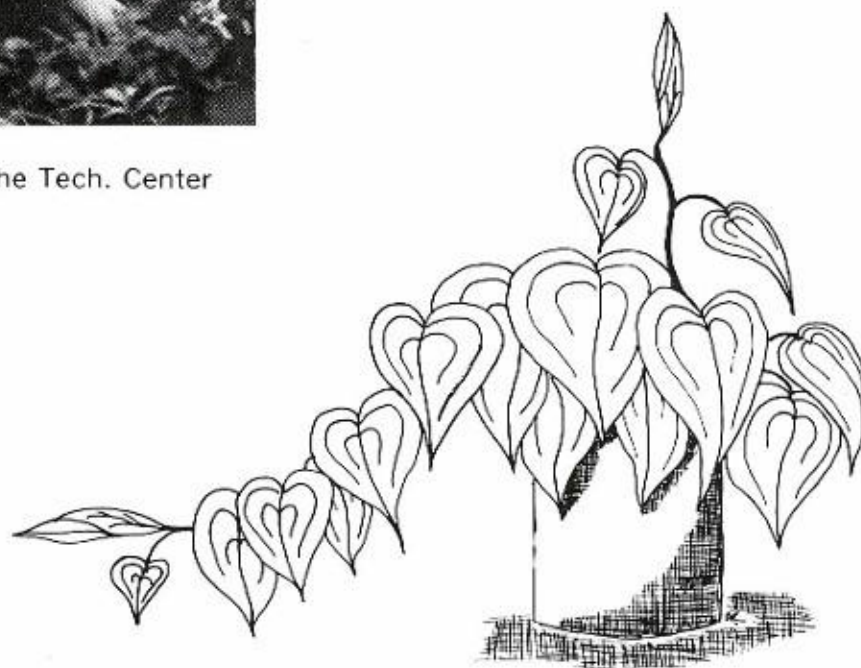

Carrie Misener at a contest that was held here.

Well it could be a Dieffenbachia Amoena. No, I think its a Dumb cane.

The plant shop at the Tech. Center

They and many others grow those funny green plants that we bought during lunch. Not only do they grow plants but FFA members also go to plant shops, greenhouses, fairs, and a mass of contests held at different schools throughout Western Washington.

SENIORS CLASS OF 1978

When we look back on our past,
And our years at Nathan Hale,
Our feelings are confused.
We start out by being alone,
Growing independently with our friends.
Only to part again, to face new Situations, each having their Own sense of happiness and sorrow.

Hi! Gonna *
glad this year
is almost over?
I know I am...
even though I'm gonna miss my friends.
We didn't get any classes together this year, but we still stayed friends. Gonna (thanks for the info. of the test being hard). I hope we have some classes together next year. You're gonna be here aren't you? Glee, I hope you enjoy your summer.
May sweet love I see
see you next year.
okay?

To a very nice young lady. who I always like to talk to but about time you asked me to sign your annual I thought that you would never ask me because I am short if I had a few more inches on me I would talk to you more than I do now. I heard that your family was moving to Oregon in the summer time. so sad that we wont be seeing each other any more but you can still write letter in the mail if you want or if you have any time to. which I know you wont write any letters to me any way well hope well I hope you have fun
 this summer and stay happy and sweet.
 Every Foster

Genma, I finally got to meet you, the last day of school. We had an interesting conversation! Kids these days - they are really weird. Anyways, I hope you have a terrific summer break and I'll probably see you next year. Love, Emmanuelle
